CABINET APPROVES FOUR-POWER PLAN FOR POLICING RHINE

Agreement Would Require Germany to Accept Hague Court Decision on Right to Violate Locarno Treaty—New Start in International Relationships When Way Is Cleared

LONDON, March 19 (AP).—The British Cabinet gave approval tonight to the text of the four-power agreement, which would require Germany to accept a Hague court decision on its right to violate the Locarno Treaty and would put international police in the German Rhineland.

The four Locarno powers—Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium—today agreed on the plan, which it is hoped not only will bridge the present difficulties but lay the foundations of a new order for Europe.

GERMANY INFORMED

Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary, with the assent of the other Locarno powers, it is understood, tonight informed Joachim von Ribbentrop, the German representative, of its general tenor. It has gone to Paris, Brussels and Rome for examination by the governments there. Tonight the British Cabinet held a special meeting to consider it. Tomorrow Mr. Eden will make a statement in the House of Commons.

The plan contemplates a new start in international relationships when the present difficulties are tided over. The League of Nations will be invited to summon an international conference, probably at the end of May, which will consider not only the new peace structure, but the allied problems of the armaments race and economic difficulties which have been giving rise to discontent.

TO STUDY ALL PROPOSALS

The conference will not confine itself to any particular set of peace proposals. It will study Chancellor Hitler's seven points along with all others in an endeavor to reach a

TREATY WILL BE RATIFIED TODAY

Canadian-American Pact Passes Through Committee Stage in Commons

OTTAWA, March 19 (CP).—The Canadian-American trade treaty passed through committee stage in the House of Commons today, leaving only one more step before it has the full force of law. A formal bill of ratification was introduced later by Premier King as the final procedure and will be discussed and probably passed tomorrow.

The last article in the treaty passed through committee stage late in the afternoon after all tariff changes had been ratified. Altogether there were about 225 specific tariff changes in addition to the full range of the intermediate rates.

ESCAPE CLAUSES DEBATED

The Prime Minister, when pressed by Conservatives, gave his opinion the treaty would remain in force its full three years despite two or three escape clauses under which its life could be shortened either by Washington or Ottawa.

Hon. Hugh Stewart (Cons., Leeds) referred to the escape clauses, claiming it would be "about as easy to terminate this treaty as it would be to get a divorce in Reno."

The escape clauses, Mr. King said, provided plenty of scope for negotiation and were standard clauses in all trade treaties negotiated by Washington. If, however, the Conservatives believed the treaty was such a bad bargain for Canada, they should not worry about its termination.

Not Returning to Boards of Opera

NEW YORK, March 19 (CP).—General Manager Edward Johnson, of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will not return to the boards—for the time being, at least.

He Guelph, Ont., tenor was to have assumed the lead with Lucrezia Bori in "Pelleas and Melisande," as he had done since the opera was added to the Met's repertoire. Owing to the continued illness of Miss Bori, however, it was announced the opera had been canceled.

SAYS HITLER MUST AGREE

France Will Invoke Security Clauses if Germany Rejects Compromise Plan

(Copyright, 1936, by Havas News Agency)

PARIS, March 19 (CP).—It was learned authoritatively here tonight that Germany must accept the four-power plan for solution of the Rhineland crisis or France will invoke the security clauses of the Locarno Treaty — which stipulate mutual assistance of the signatories against the treaty violator.

This action will be reinforced, it was understood, by a "new Locarno" agreement among Great Britain, France, Belgium and Italy, excluding Germany.

Great Britain and Italy guaranteed the territorial integrity of both France and Germany under the Locarno Treaty, now repudiated by Berlin. The new agreement would guarantee only the frontiers of France and Belgium.

FRANCE APPROVES PLAN

The French Cabinet tonight unanimously approved the plan worked out in London by the four Locarno powers.

A high source gave out a few details of the proposed four-power plan to smooth over the Locarno crisis.

SEEK RE-ENTRY INTO DOMINION

Colony of Mennonite Farmers Anxious to Settle In Quebec

QUEBEC, March 19 (CP).—The colony of 8,000 Mennonite farmers that left Western Canada for Mexico ten years ago desires to return to Canada and would like to settle in Quebec, representatives of the group informed Quebec Government officials today.

The delegates, Dyck, Schmitt and Rempel, held a conference with Hon. Hector Authier and gave him a memorandum outlining plans of the colony in seeking establishment here.

If they were established in this province they would want their own schools and permission to teach their children German. They were wholly a farming people, tilling the soil by hand and using little or no machinery.

ARE SELF-SUSTAINING

The deputation told the minister the group was self-sustaining, and, other than building roads into the section in which they might settle, there would be no cost to the Government.

he would discuss the matter with the Cabinet and give them an answer within a week.

Officials of the Department of Colonization later said the building of roads would present a huge task.

The question also arose, officials said, whether or not the Government's present colonization plans were sufficiently wide to provide for establishment of such a colony.

FLOOD THREATENS TOWN IN QUEBEC

Hundreds of St. Hyacinthe Families Flee From Homes—Police Patrol in Rowboats

ST. HYACINTHE, Que., March 19 (CP).—Rising waters of the Yamaska River today sent hundred of St. Hyacinthe families from their homes seeking shelter as floods swept over the lower section of the city. Factories were closed when electricity was turned off, police patroled the city in rowboats.

Three miles of river above St. Hyacinthe were blocked by ice, and it was feared that bridges between here and adjacent villages would be washed away if the blockage gave.

Legislation Will Set Up National Commission to Deal With Employment

Bill to Create Agency to Further Federal and Provincial Co-operation

MAY GET POWER TO ADMINISTER FUNDS

OTTAWA, March 19 (CP).—First reading was given a bill to establish a national employment commission in the House of Commons today. Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Labor, said its purpose was to create an agency which would further co-operation between Provinces, Dominion Government, social agencies and other bodies in dealing with the problems of unemployment and relief.

The proposal to establish the commission had met with the unanimous approval of the Provincial delegations at the recent Dominion-Provincial Conference.

POWERS UNDECIDED

J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, asked if the commission would have any funds at its disposal and Mr. Rogers replied the Government was considering giving the commission supervisory and possibly administrative functions.

"If this commission is to administer funds, I am absolutely against it," said Sir George Perley, leading

Pleads for Canada to Contribute Her Share to Empire Navies

REGINA, March 19 (CP).—Plea for Canada to contribute her share toward the naval resources of the British Empire was made by Mr. Justice H. V. Bigelow in an address to the Social Service Council of Saskatchewan here tonight.

Canada enjoyed the protection of the British navy, but "Canada's contribution to the navy is not anything to be proud of," he said.

Naval expenditure of Canada last year was 20 cents per capita as compared with $8 per capita in Great Britain, where an additional $17 per capita was being spent this year.

Manslaughter Is Jury Verdict in John Booth Case

Accused, Charged With Murder of Wife, Sentenced To Fifteen Years in Penitentiary—Trial Is Fraught With Dramatic Moments—Proceedings Unusual at Last Moment

JOHN H. Booth, of Sidney, charged with the murder of his wife, was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary at the conclusion of a dramatic trial in the Assize Court late yesterday afternoon.

The verdict came at the end of a day full of events, in which Robert D. Harvey, counsel for the accused, fought every new point in an effort to save the accused from the gallows. The most dramatic moment came when the jury was recalled from its discussion of the evidence, and instructed to drop the discussion until such time as some last-minute evidence could be produced by Dr. H. G. Burden, of Rest Haven.

When sentence was pronounced by Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson, Booth sobbed aloud. His whole frame was shaken with emotion, and he was led from the court by police with his head buried in his hands and his body convulsing uncontrolably, and his sobs audible even in the spectators' gallery.

RAISES POINTS

His Lordship commenced to charge the jury at 10 o'clock, yesterday morning. His direction to the panel lasted for nearly three hours. At ten minutes to 1 o'clock,

SELASSIE AT HEAD OF FORCE

Ethiopians Halt Advance of Black Shirts—Promoter's Visit Raises Conjecture

(Copyright, 1936, by Havas News Agency)

ADDIS ABABA, March 19 (CP).—Emperor Haile Selassie is leading his troops in an engagement in the northern sector between Mount Alaji and Lake Achangi, in which both the Italian and Ethiopian forces are suffering heavy losses, reports from the war zone said tonight.

The tribal warriors temporarily have halted the Blackshirt advance toward the strategic lake, dispatches said, and are holding their positions despite desperate Italian onslaughts.

Francis M. Rickett, British promoter who obtained the vast Ethiopian oil and mineral concessions, which created a furore shortly after the war started, arrived here today. He refused to explain his visit. Coming directly from Rome, the promoter reportedly brought a secret peace proposal from Premier Mussolini.

Albania and Italy Enter New Accord

TIRANA, Albania, March 19 (CP-Havas).—A new financial and economic agreement between Italy and Albania and a supplementary commercial treaty between the two countries were signed here today.

The financial agreement in return for oil concessions to Italy, cancels the loan of 100,000,000 gold francs (about $6,600,000) granted to Albania in June, 1931.

CLAIM BREAKING OF LIQUOR PLOT

Twenty-Two Under Arrest in California—Warrants Out for Thirty More

LOS ANGELES, March 19 (AP).—Federal customs agents, charging they have broken up one of the greatest liquor conspiracies since Prohibition, arrested ten men and a woman today.

The number of persons now held in the case is twenty-two, and warrants are out for the arrest of an additional thirty, Federal men said.

Deputy United States Attorney John Powell said that Sherwood Johnston, whom they described as a millionaire San Francisco and Burlingame society man, is sought on an indictment as the ringleader in the case.

Customs agents declared that alcohol valued at between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000 was smuggled into the United States from Mexico by the ring.

PUBLISHER OF CALGARY DEAD

George M. Bell Was Well Known Among Western Canadian Businessmen

CALGARY, March 19 (CP).—Prominent Western Canada newspaper publisher and financier, George M. Bell, president and managing director of the Albertan Publishers, Limited, died in hospital here tonight after a brief illness. He was in his fifty-second year. Death followed an attack of influenza, complicated by a heart ailment.

Publisher of The Albertan, the only morning newspaper in Alberta and official publication of the Social Credit movement in this Province. He had been a resident of Calgary since 1926.

INTERESTED IN MINING

He was closely associated with mining and oil developments in Western Canada and pioneered in Alberta and British Columbia oil and gold fields.

He entered the newspaper field in 1920 when he became president of The Leader Publishing Company of Regina, and in 1922 president of The Star Publishing Company, Saskatoon. His newspaper interests were further enlarged when he became associated with S. L. Ross, of Regina, in founding and publishing The Northern Mail, at The Pas, Manitoba. In 1926 he became president and managing director of The Albertan.

Edmonton Has Hospitals Full

EDMONTON, March 19 (CP).—With five deaths this month closely resembling those of the 1918 'flu epidemic, Edmonton is in the grip of an epidemic of influenza, pneumonia and various communicable diseases. All hospitals are full to near capacity.

More than 700 cases of communicable disease, apart from influenza and pneumonia have been reported in the last few weeks.

DEATH AND DESTRUCTION MOUNT IN EASTERN U.S.

Nine-Span Bridge In New Brunswick Is Wrecked by Ice

FREDERICTON, March 19 (CP).—A huge ice jam broke tonight at the half-mile-long Canadian National Railways bridge across the St. John River from Fredericton to South Devon tonight, taking the entire nine-span structure with it and cutting off rail communication with Moncton and Newcastle. Damage was estimated at $1,500,000.

Floods Claim 133 Lives in Eleven States—More Than 200,000 Persons Homeless and Property Damage Runs Into Hundreds of Millions—New Sections Being Ravaged

Pillaging and Disease Add to Hardships in Inundated Areas

HATFIELD, Mass. (AP via Telephone to Albany, N.Y.), March 19 (AP).—Hip-booted state police in motorboats, aided by giant floodlights, completed tonight a dramatic rescue of 150 men, women and children marooned for twenty-four hours in a town hall surrounded by the raging, flood-swollen Connecticut River.

Aided by volunteers in rowboats rushed 100 miles from the quiet ponds of Boston parks, twenty patrolmen made a dozen trips of a mile each through treacherous, eddying flood waters to reach the group imprisoned by the river in the cold and damp buildings.

PITTSBURGH, March 19 (AP).—Down four great rivers—the Ohio, Potomac, Susquehanna and Connecticut—boiling flood waters raged tonight to ravage new areas. Behind the surging sweep of this "big four," and of other rivers now receding slowly, great sections of a dozen states—the industrial heart of the nation—were swamped.

Known deaths numbered 133 in eleven states; many probably are yet to be counted. Property damage mounted to hundreds of millions. Refugees were more than 200,000, by Red Cross calculation. Pillaging, disease, food and water shortages, crippled communication lines and disrupted traffic facilities were aftermaths of the watery disaster.

Looting was a particularly serious situation at Vandergrift, Pa., and at Springfield, Mass.

Disease was rife in many areas where residents were without shelter and water supplies were contaminated. Johnstown and Sunbury, Pa., faced epidemics, and stringent disinfectant measures were taken in Binghamton, N.Y.

SPREAD NEW PERILS

But the waters rolled on to spread new perils.

DANGER SPOT IS REMOVED

Ice Moves Out of Ontario River, Relieving Threat Of Flood Damage

TORONTO, March 19 (CP).—Belleville was free of threat from floods today for the first time in a week after ice in the Moira River moved out into the Bay of Quinte without duplicating its $100,000 rampage of last Thursday.

Easing of the situation in the city of 14,000 on Lake Ontario's north shore removed the danger spot in Ontario's flood situation. Rivers and streams in other parts of the province threatened to flood their banks as mild weather melted Tuesday's record snowfall, but serious conditions were expected nowhere.

QUEBEC TOWNS AFFECTED

Some Quebec towns were affected. The Richelieu River town of Chambly and neighboring villages were without electric power and drinking water, as the river receded after sweeping away two houses. Communication lines were damaged by sleet and rain in the Campbell's Bay region.

Although traffic conditions in the Niagara Peninsula, which suffered most from Tuesday's heavy snowfall, were improving, they were still far from normal.

ARE BOTH GUILTY AND NOT GUILTY

Royal City Magistrate Faces Real Puzzle in Dealing With Truck Drivers

NEW WESTMINSTER, March 19 (CP).—Several truck drivers appeared in police court today, charged with carrying excessive loads over the Fraser River Bridge approach and were found both guilty and not guilty, so the magistrate ended the confusion by adjourning the cases for further argument.

The approach to the bridge is city property, but is maintained by the Provincial Government. The city recently passed a by-law regulating traffic on approaches on the same lines as the Highway Act.

In court today it was found one part of the act freed the truck drivers, while another found them in the wrong.

CONSERVATIVES ARE PREPARING

Leader in Manitoba Fears Government Will Destroy Wanted Documents

WINNIPEG, March 19 (CP).—It wasn't that the Conservative Party feared there had been "dirty work afoot" during the fourteen years Premier Bracken's Progressive Government has been in power in Manitoba.

It was only that Conservative Leader W. Sanford Evans thinks his forces will be in office if elections are held next year and wants an opportunity to look over all documents accumulated during the Bracken regime.

A bill being discussed in the Provincial Legislature's law amendments committee today, sponsored by Hon. F. A. McPherson, Provincial Treasurer, proposed destroying all cheques, vouchers, receipts and other papers that have been gathering since 1870.

TEN YEARS TOO SHORT

Only papers of the past ten years would be retained under the bill, but to Mr. Evans' mind that was too short a time. He protested: "We might want to look at the cheques of your administration when we get in there next year."

Mr. McPherson was quite optimistic Mr. Bracken would be returned next year. "All right," he said. "We'll make it twenty years and give you a chance." And the bill was reported back to the House.

LABOR WARNED AGAINST BULLY

President of Federation Says Germany's Aggression Must Be Halted

LONDON, March 19 (CP-Havas).—Labor leaders representing 35,000,000 European workers tonight were warned that Chancellor Hitler's "bullying" Rhineland challenge must be accepted, but that decisive action must be taken to halt Germany's "next aggressive act."

Addressing the first meeting of the International Trade Union and Labor Conference since the war, Sir Walter Citrine, president of the International Federation of Trade Unions, declared: "There must be no whitewashing of Germany."

LABOR WARNED

"We cannot allow it to be assumed that bullies can coerce or intimidate everybody in the world," Sir Walter told the delegates assembled here to formulate a definite labor policy in the current international crisis.

International labor leaders unanimously condemned the Reich's scrapping of the Versailles and Locarno Treaties at a meeting tonight in Transport Hall, Westminster.

"Unless decisive measures are taken, it is possible the world will relapse once again into the old discredited system of alliances between powers, and no security will exist for anyone," Sir Walter said at the first meeting.

Health Bill Runs Into Opposition From Liberal Side

E. D. Barrow, Former Minister of Agriculture, Says Measure Is Further Imposition on Farmers—Ministerial Benches Talk on Budget

OPPOSITION to the State Health Bill from E. D. Barrow (Liberal, Chilliwack); explanation of how Canada proposes to amend the British North America Act from Attorney-General Sloan; a plea for hospital sweepstakes from Captain C. S. Leary (Liberal, Kaslo-Slocan), and enthusiastic defence of the present administration from ministerial benches formed highlights in the budget debate before the Legislature yesterday. The House sat for two periods, with debate adjourned until today.

Dealing with the Corbin clash between 250 striking miners and a mine tractor crew of six on April 18 last year, Mr. Sloan said the Provincial Police had used good judgment and patience in preserving order impartially. Incited by Communist agitators from Blairmore, Alta., the crowd had rushed a tractor which was moving slowly on the public highway. Fearing its crew would be killed, the police had intervened.

One constable sustained grave injuries when struck with a sledge-hammer, and one striker had died

SALMON ARM, B.C., March 19 (CP).—The story of how a deer, wedged in the frozen surface of Shuswap Lake, was rescued by Tom Foster, of Squilax, near here, only to die later from exhaustion and exposure, was related today.

The animal became wedged after breaking through the ice on the lake, where it had taken refuge from hungry coyotes

COMMITTEE WILL FORMULATE PLANS

League's Thirteen Meeting Today to Handle Acceptance of Peace Discussion

LONDON, March 19 (AP).—A high League of Nations official said tonight the League committee of thirteen would meet tomorrow to discuss how to deal with the acceptance of the League's plan for peace talks by Italy and Ethiopia.

Reports circulated in League circles that Italy might try to induce Great Britain to withdraw part of her fleet from the Mediterranean. Observers thought that if such a gesture were made France would support it, because of a desire to strengthen Franco-Italian friendship in view of the Locarno situation

Death and Property Damage Continue To Mount in East

The river's worst stage since 1884 was due in Marietta before dawn, in Cincinnati by Sunday, crest feet above flood level. People who live along the Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky borders waited apprehensively.

The river was convulsed by the waters that overflowed Pittsburgh, with a death toll of approximately thirty and a property loss of some $25,000,000; that inundated Wheeling, W.Va., taking seventeen lives there and four elsewhere in the state.

The Potomac River battered at dikes which relief workers hastily threw up to protect Government buildings and famous avenues.

SEVEN TOWNS INUNDATED

In the valley which the crest had swept, at least four were dead, seven towns inundated and practically isolated, and nearly all briges washed away. More than 1,000 were homeless in Cumberland alone, second largest Maryland city.

The Susquehanna surge continued its smashing sweep south through the centre of Pennsylvania, after devastating many cities in its northern valley—Williamsport, Lock Haven and Sunbury were particularly hard hit. At least nineteen were dead along its course, 50,000 homeless, and water, food, light and heat supplies cut off. Williamsport was laid waste by fire and flood.

Hartford and other towns in Connecticut and Southern Massachusetts began to feel the fury of the flooded Coonnecticut River, which had wreaked earlier devastation through Vermont and New Hampshire and Northern Massachusetts.

RIVER STILL RISING

The river was at thirty-two feet in Hartford and still rising. At least one man was drowned. Hundreds of families were homeless, and the damage was estimated unofficially in excess of $5,000,000.

Pittsburgh was emerging from the wildest flood in its history. But as the waters receded, the death and destruction tolls mounted.

Fears were expressed that thirty-five or more may have lost their lives in the great steel capital and its suburbs.

More than 15,000 persons were reported routed from their homes in the metropolitan area. The city's 700,000 inhabitants passed their second night of darkness.

The search for bodies went on as workmen sought to clear away the mud and slime deposited in the streets by the flood.

Outside of Pittsburgh, the State of Pennsylvania was a panorama of death, desolation and disease.

RECEDING AT JOHNSTOWN

The second Johnstown flood was subsiding and the refugees were straggling back from the surrounding hills to reclaim their mud-filled homes. The death toll there may reach sixteen.

While President Roosevelt watched the situation closely, the nation's capital gathered itself to meet the watery onslaught.

An army of 1,500 relief workers threw up sandbag barriers to help protect $100,000,000 worth of Government buildings and historic shrines.

The Senate received a resolution authorizing the President to transfer $10,000,000 from relief funds to aid flood-ravaged Pennsylvania.

FIRE IN TORONTO

TORONTO, March 19 (CP).—Fire today caused heavy damage at the plant of G. H. Wood & Company, on Dundas Street East, manufacturers of liquid soap. Estimates placed the damage as high as $100,000. No one was injured.

TELLS BRITONS ABOUT CANADA

High Commissioner Stressed Growing Importance of Industry in Dominion

LONDON, March 19 (CP).—Canada's growing importance as an industrial country was stressed today by Hon. Vincent Massey, the Dominion's High Commissioner to London, at a luncheon given by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Great Britain.

He believed trade between Canada and the United Kingdom "should form a practical demonstration between the two countries of their regard for the interest in each other," and lauded the economic progress in the Old Country.

The Dominion was often visualized as a land of open spaces with a population almost entirely rural, said Mr. Massey. But Canada was becoming more and more an industrial country.

MUTUAL COMPREHENSION

Trade could prosper only in an atmosphere of mutual comprehension, with mutual support between public administration and private enterprise, he declared. Britain had made a happy compromise between these principles in the British Industries Fair. At the recent fair, Canada had forty exhibitors. She hoped to have more next year, said the High Commissioner.

Empire trade need not impair world trade, said Mr. Massey. It was in that spirit that Britain had made trade agreements with foreign countries, and Canada had concluded an agreement with the United States—"an agreement which has not contravened either the letter or the spirit of the Ottawa agreements."

HEALTH BILL RUNS INTO OPPOSITION

in jail from natural causes. Corbin had been peaceful before the incident, and was peaceful now. The Province would propose executive clemency for men sentenced at the time, believing they had learned a lesson.

NEW CONSTITUTION

Mr. Sloan reiterated the course of Dominion-Provincial negotiations looking to creation of a new, self-regulated constitution for Canada, with Imperial assent. Empire ties would be preserved; but more flexible methods sought to readjust relations between the Dominion and all provinces, on a basis mutually satisfactory. He hoped to have a copy of the actual measure to lay before the next session, for ratification by British Columbia.

"Property and civil rights" and "matters of a local and private nature," which together formed the basis for all Provincial authority under the British North America Act, were to be reapportioned in the redivision of Federal and Provincial duties and responsibilities. For this purpose it was proposed to divide the subject-matter of the act into four parts: The first, concerning Dominion affairs only; a second, where the Dominion and one or more provinces were concerned; a third, where the Dominion and six provinces (when including 55 per cent of population) were affected, and a fourth part, involving unanimous assent by all ten Assemblies.

SAFEGUARDS PROPOSED

Issues involving marriage, administration of justice, language, bilingual schools and representation in Parliament would remain subject to unanimous consent. On a wide range of subjects, two-thirds of the provinces could agree with the Dominion on uniform legislation. Adequate safeguards against centralization of authority and against domination of minority provinces would become part of the measure. The aim was a flexible Canadian constitution under Canadian law.

The terms of the British North America Act at present did not give adequate protection to the provinces; and had otherwise become unworkable in the rapid change of conditions since Confederation, Mr. Sloan said, explaining his three visits to Ottawa since Fall as a member of a Federal committee on the proposed legislation.

At another point in his speech the Attorney-General declared it was doubtful if under the British North America Act one province could take action to reduce debt interest on securities held outside the borders of that province. He did not comment, however, on Alberta or other manoeuvres in that regard.

PROGRAMME OBSERVED

In a defence of the Pattullo administration, Mr. Sloan asserted the British Columbia Government had fulfilled 90 per cent of the Liberal programme as laid before the electors some two years ago. Efforts had been made to give profitable employment. Labor laws had added $14,000,000 to British Columbia payrolls. Relief camps were closing, and the Province was hopeful of further aid to carry on public works.

The Dominion, in formal factums before the Supreme Court of Canada on the Social and Unemployed Insurance Act test, had now declared unemployment a national problem. The British Columbia Economic Council had set in motion studies expected to lead to favorable tariff revisions. The Government had revised taxation downward, Mr. Sloan contended.

OTHER PLEDGES

Health-insurance had been promised, and was now before the House. A promise of aid to municipalities had been renewed, with the expectation of action next session. Agriculture had been put on a sounder basis by creation of a round dozen marketing boards, to control fish, fruit, vegetables and other commodities.

No highway board has been established, as there had been little money to spend on highways. The Peace River outlet had not proved immediately possible. Better terms had been solicited, and $1,500,000 secured in supplementary grants from Ottawa under this head, with a Royal Commission still sought.

"I am safe in saying that 90 per cent of that programme has been carried out in the two years since the Government took office. And I will say, further, that our opponents and critics would not have done half as well," Attorney-General Sloan concluded.

OPPOSE HEALTH BILL

Veteran Liberal member for Chilliwack, and former minister of agriculture for the Province, Mr. Barrow flatly opposed the Health Insurance Bill.

"The average income of dairymen in the Fraser Valley was $680 last year, compared with $1,020, the average paid employees in Vancouver. The farmer is the goat, all the time. If I were here next week I would vote and speak against the health bill. It means that the farmer, already under great disparity with the city worker, is to be further discriminated against," Mr. Barrow said.

Mr. Barrow explained that next week he will attend a Calgary meeting of the Canadian Chamber of Agriculture, western section. He wanted the House to know, he said, that he could see no virtue in the health bill and would have voted against it, if present.

LOW RETURNS

Discussing milk production on the Mainland, Mr. Barrow said dairymen received ninety-eight cents for ten gallons of milk, compared with $4 paid by the ultimate consumer in the fluid milk market. Distributors paid $1.85 for the same quantity. The great difference in returns, he said, was due to the low prices received for manufactured milk products, into which two-thirds of the total output went.

Marketing, Mr. Barrow declared, was the problem facing agriculture generally in British Columbia, with disposal of surpluses the chief difficulty. The farmers were organizing, and intended to have a greater say in matters affecting their livelihood, he said, in conclusion.

URGES SWEEPSTAKES

Captain C. S. Leary, chief Liberal whip, renewed his advocacy of legalized sweepstakes in Canada, particularly in aid of hospital funds. He suggested that the Legislature go on record in support of sweepstakes under adequate public safeguards. Some Interior hospitals had tried membership-ticket plans, but had been forced to drop them, due to technicalities. Meanwhile, hospitals were suffering for lack of adequate assistance.

Tracing the growth of private industry between 1933 and 1935, Captain Leary said industrial payrolls had recovered from $102,580,000 to $130,000,000. This, he said, was an answer to the claim that the administration had not given "work and wages." In the lumber industry unskilled labor was receiving $1 a day more than in 1932. Relief costs in his riding had declined from $225,000 in 1933 to $90,000 in 1935, while mining and other activities had spurted ahead.

Captain Leary, in conclusion, asked for Provincial aid to construct a hospital wing at New Denver; for preliminary surveys of the proposed Nakusp-Arrowhead and Edgewood-Robson links in Interior highways system; and for more vigorous assistance to mining, by extension of trails.

THROWS HOT BOLT

After a slashing attack on the budget, George M. Murray (Liberal, Lillooet) urged forced reduction of interest rates in British Columbia, in co-operation with the current manoeuvres in Alberta; creation of a "country party" in Provincial politics, and large-scale programmes of roads, housing and other works.

Mr. Murray referred to Provincial deficits, growing from $600,000 in 1912 to $7,500,000 as at the present time, and criticized increased votes for all Government purposes, save those bearing on productive industry. The Province had a debt of $180,000,000, with perpetuation of that debt as the only remedy suggested.

"DO SOMETHING"

"The Premier is reported as saying, 'We do not know what we are going to do, but we are going to do something.' That statement is not to be taken lightly. When a leader of his party stands in his place in the House and makes a speech of that kind, it is time to watch closely events to follow," Mr. Murray declared.

"I would urge the Minister of Finance to co-operate with the Province of Alberta to see if something cannot be done to reduce interest rates in the two provinces. The Premier has referred to using the 'national credit.' The Premier of Alberta calls it 'social credit.' If I were a leader of a party, I might say 'spiritual credit'; but the important thing is that Alberta is compelling leaders to come in and cut down the load of debt in that province," Mr. Murray continued.

"WAGES OF MONEY"

"Debt works while you sleep. We are digging money out of the ground today to pay interest on debt created twenty years ago. In reply to those who say we cannot refund—that we must protect the investor, the widows and orphans—I would say that when a rancher loses his home for taxes, there are no indignation meetings. I say now, the wages of money must come down, as have the wages of man. So far as I am concerned, I feel no obligation for debts that were created in an atmosphere of dishonesty.

"The salvation of British Columbia lies outside of your cities, built at the expense of outlying districts; while the wealth from our mines, agriculture, fisheries, lumber and other industries is being drained to pay for cities that contribute nothing to the development of the land. This province has been run too long by brokers. What we need is a Country party," Mr. Murray declared.

PUBLIC WORKS

Mr Murray digressed to advocate construction of a $1,000,000 highway between Whytecliffe and Squamish, a housing programme in the municipalities, and replacement of all farm buildings in British Columbia.

Reverting to refunding, he said a new order was coming.

"The Honorable the Premier has yet a chance to be one of the leaders to bring it in. If the Liberals do not give action on economy, on refunding, and on the things that people want, the people will find others that will," the member for Lillooet concluded.

Jack Price (C.C.F., Vancouver East) went again over the ground of the Corbin differences of last year, to say that independent witnesses at the riot held a different view from the authorities. No sense of conciliation had been shown, he asserted.

PROVINCIAL GAS

Mr Price suggested that the Province take over the sale and distribution of gasoline, rather than consider giving that right to cities, and reduce statutory hours of labor to spread employment.

C. H. Tupper (Liberal, Similkameen) described as impracticable a prior suggestion that the P.G.E. rails be lifted and the railway used as a highway. Rock blasting to widen the route, he said, would cost millions. There were other practical objections. The P.G.E. board had considered Diesel service, but found that the cost of equipment was heavy and the additional equipment would have to wait.

Hon. A. W. Gray adjourned debate for the night. Rumors in legislative corridors at 11 p.m. brought word that the House may be asked to sit on Saturday also, as the Government speeds its programme for closing the session this month.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know the real cause of piles is on the inside?

Do you know they can be doctored from the inside?

Do you know you must get at and remove the cause of Piles, to get rid of them?

The real cause of piles is poor circulation—a congestion of blood in the veins of the lower bowel. This makes the veins flabby, full of impure congested blood, and weakens the rectal membranes.

So if you would have relief from piles you should use an internal medicine like HEM-ROID, a prescription written by Dr. J. S. Leonhardt. HEM-ROID banishes piles by relieving the cause. It stimulates circulation, eases the pressure of blood in the veins of the lower bowel and helps to heal and restore the sore, tender parts.

HEM-ROID is so successful in even the most stubborn cases that MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores, or any other good druggist is authorized to make good our promise to you that if you are not completely satisfied with the results from one bottle, you may have your money back. (Advt.)

LABOR WINS IN DUMBARTONSHIRE

Thomas Cassells Victor in Three-Cornered Fight in By-Election—First Loss for Government

LONDON, March 19 (CP).—Labor captured a seat from the Government in Dumbartonshire District, results of the by-election there showed today.

It was the first setback for the Government since the general election last November. In two previous by-elections Government supporters were returned.

The results:

Thomas Cassells, Labor, 20,187.

Arthur Duffes, Conservative, 19,203.

Robert Gray, Scottish Nationalist, 2,599.

Cassels thus was elected on a minority vote. His plurality over Duffes was 984.

In the general election, Commander A. D. Cochrane, Conservative, was returned by a majority of 256 against Labor and Independent candidates. He polled 24,776 votes.

The by-election was necessitated by the appointment of Commander Cochrane as Governor of Burma.

Cassells is a Falkirk solicitor and is an authority on the law of workmen's compensation. He was the Labor candidate in the election last November. Polling took place yesterday.

Dumbartonshire has been in the Government fold since 1931. It returned a Labor member to Parliament in 1929.

Recovering from a major operation, Logan was dozing in his home. Suddenly he jumped from his bed, seriously injuring himself because of his weakened condition. At a hospital where doctors sought vainly to save him, Logan weakly said he dreamed he had heard the alarm and jumped out of bed from habit.

LONDON, March 19 (CP-Havas).—The salary of Sir Thomas Inskip, appointed to the new ministerial post in charge of defence co-ordination, will be £5,000 ($25,000), Prime Minister Baldwin announced in the House of Commons today. The announcement brought loud protests from the Opposition benches.

VANCOUVER, March 19 (CP).—J. G. Bruce, diver for Greater Vancouver Water Board, was rescued from the Second Narrows by fellow workmen today after his air supply had been cut off. He was unconscious when taken from the water. Hospital officials later reported his condition as "fairly good."

URGE ACTION ON RAIL LINK

Railway Committee of Legislature Seeks $1,000,000 P.G.E. Programme

Construction of a $1,000,000 highway between Whytecliffe, West Vancouver, and Squamish, the present terminus of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, will be urged on the Provincial Government by the railway committee of the Legislature, it was decided yesterday.

The committee, under the chairmanship of Major D. M. MacKay, secured from Arthur Dixon, deputy minister of public works, rough estimates of the cost of construction of a standard twenty-foot highway over the twenty-seven miles involved. Construction said Mr. Dixon, might entail costs of between $35,000 and $40,000 per mile.

COST $1,080,000

The committee resolved to draw up a formal resolution asking the Government to proceed with the suggested highway at the earliest possible date.

On the basis of $40,000 per mile, the highway would cost $1,080,000, a sum the committee realized might not be available immediately. Early action, however, will be sought to link the Provincial railway with Vancouver by road service.

OTHER COMMITTEES

The municipal committee, under Norman W. Whittaker, continued discussion of a large number of proposals from the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, and will report suggested amendments to the Municipal Act shortly.

The private bills committee, under Gordon S. Wismer, considered amendments to the Vancouver city charter, and completed the surveyor's bill during the day.

REFUND FEES

In the Legislature the private bills committee reported the Victoria Foundation Bill approved, and urged that bill fees of $200 be refunded, as the measure was for a charitable purpose. The House agreed to remission of the fees. The Land Surveyor's Bill was reported in order, after some amendments.

Mr. Speaker Perry ruled a round dozen questions out of order, as transgressing the rules of the House.

BIDS INVITED FOR BUILDING

Forty-Thousand-Dollar Motion Picture Theatre Proposed for Oak Bay

Tenders are being called for the construction of a combination motion picture theatre and store building in Oak Bay, it was learned yesterday. Some five or six contractors have been invited to submit figures.

Eric C. Clarkson is the architect. The building will cost approximately $40,000, it is understood, and will have seating accommodation for about 600.

This is the second motion picture house proposed for Oak Bay. A former district picture house is to be remodelled for theatre purposes, it was announced two days ago.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO ISLAND SEAMEN

Sir Roger Keyes Suggests Formation of Naval Volunteers' Reserve in Newfoundland

LONDON, March 19 (CP).—Declaring that Newfoundland produced the finest small-ship men in the world, Admiral of the Fleet Sir Roger Keyes suggested in the House of Commons tonight the formation of a reserve of naval volunteers in the island.

During discussion of the details of the naval estimates, Sir Roger said that establishment of the reserve would benefit both the Royal Navy and Newfoundland. It would not be an expensive enterprise and would only entail a small drill ship at St. John's.

Lord Stanley, Parliamentary and Financial Secretary to the Admiralty, replying for the Government, undertook to consider the suggestion.

Hockey League Heads Hope City Will Have Ice Arena by Autumn

Henry J. Roche, Owner of Edmonton Eskimos, Delivers Message to Members of Committee Interested in Building for Year-Round Sports

NORTHWESTERN Hockey League, which operates in British Columbia, Alberta, Washington and Oregon, is interested, in championship hockey for Victoria. Governors of the league hope the city will have an ice arena in operation next Autumn.

Members of Victoria and District Arena and Auditorium Committee were pleased to hear the foregoing news from Henry J. Roche, owner of the Edmonton Eskimos, during a meeting at offices of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon. Jack A. MacKay presided.

An informal discussion on the best site for an arena took place. Locations considered were the old arena property, the former Savary estate on Cook Street, Fort Street property between Quadra and Blanshard Streets, property opposite the Empress Hotel on Belleville Street, Macdonald Park, and land bounded by Belleville, Blanshard and Douglas Streets, adjacent to the Crystal Garden.

It was felt a site as near as possible to the business centre was required, in order that the proposed arena might be a financial success.

USES OF ARENA

Leslie Osborne, Mr. MacKay and Ernest Harris related an arena could be used for box lacrosse in the Summer, basketball games, wrestling, boxing, concerts, convention gatherings, public addresses, tennis and badminton matches, ice carnivals, hockey games, curling and skating.

Mr. MacKay gave illustrations of how the old arena brought many visitors to the city during the hockey season and also attracted a large number of Winter residents who would not stay where there were no ice sports.

After Mr. Harris told how the huge Multnomah Stadium at Portland was built by community effort, members of the committee decided to ascertain whether the Provincial Government would build an arena as a relief project. The Horse Show Building at Willows Park was erected under relief work, Mr. Osborne stated. Mr. Harris cited Macdonald Park as another example.

Following a discussion on financing an arena by issuing shares to the general public and a competition to design such a building, members of the committee decided to meet again next week.

FAIR DEAL IS NOT RECEIVED

R. H. Carson, M.P.P., Says British Columbia Under Thumb of Group

British Columbia has never received a fair and square deal, for the province is under the thumb of a group a long way off who do not understand circumstances of the residents, R. H. Carson, M.P.P. for Kamloops, told members of Ward Five Liberal Association Wednesday evening. E. M. Whyte presided.

Mr. Carson declared that the province had never known a more able Cabinet than the present one, but members did not always let the public know what they were trying to do. He believed the Liberal Government would remain in power for ten or fifteen years if its actions were based upon sound business.

He said there was absolutely no chance of the next Government being formed of a majority of C.C.F. members, for idealists and extremists of the party were constantly bickering and dividing the ranks. He stated the better type of men were leaving the movement and the party was fighting a losing battle.

While he had nothing against Orientals in the province, Mr. Carson did not approve of extending the franchise to them. Many of them, he said, lived under conditions he hoped British Columbians would never descend to.

LABOR SCARCITY

Mr. Carson predicted that there would be a scarcity of skilled labor if a housing scheme were operated in the province.

He believed the cry of "no opportunity for youth" would be answered by a situation of plenty of positions with no trained young men to fill them. The young man who today said he could "do anything at all" was usually without training of any kind.

Urging all young men to learn some useful trade, Mr. Carson told those present that too many were looking for something easy.

He stated there would be no unemployment in the province if British Columbia had to look only after her own people. Many outsiders had drifted in and secured positions in the mines and forests, he asserted.

Mr. Whyte tendered Mr. Carson a hearty vote of thanks on behalf of Ward Five Liberal Association.

BIRDS WERE FED BY ASSOCIATION

At the regular monthly meeting of the committee of the Victoria branch of the British Columbia Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, the inspector reported that grain had been distributed during the severe weather in February to the birds in Mount Tolmie, Mount Douglas, Uplands, Craigflower and Gordon Head districts as well as at Beacon Hill. A sack of grain had been received from a well wisher and the Provincial Game Department also provided feed for the birds in outlying districts.

The draft of the annual report was presented by the secretary, and it was decided to order 1,000 copies for distribution among members. The publication of the report has been retarded this year, owing to the absence of the secretary during January and February.

TAG DAY IN APRIL

The president appointed the committee as a whole to make arrangements for the tag day, to be held on Saturday, April 25. Commander C. H. R. Slingsby was appointed convener of the tag day committee.

Thirty-one cases were attended and 151 animals and birds inspected during the month.

Cases of cruelty or neglect should be reported to the inspector, G. A. Allen, phone Empire 8351, or to A. R. Sherwood, secretary-treasurer, phone Empire 7556.

IN FAVOR OF CURTAILMENT

English Coal Expert Renders His Report to Alberta Government

OTTAWA, March 19 (C.P.).—Curtailment for the next five years of development work designed to increase production was urged on the Alberta Government in the report of Sir Montague Barlow, English expert, who investigated the province's coal industry last Fall.

Sir Montague, in the course of recommendations calling for increased subventions, fixed freight rates for a period of five years, improved marketing and working conditions and publicity, advised the Government to refuse, save in exceptional circumstances, to grant new leases of mineral areas during the period suggested.

PUBLISHES SUMMARY

Hon. C. C. Ross, Alberta Minister of Lands and Mines, in the course of a paper read today before a meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, made public a summary of the report. Sir Montague came to Canada last Fall under an arrangement entered into by the former United Farmer Government of Alberta, which was replaced by the Social Credit administration before the inquiry opened.

The Barlow report urged the Provincial Government not only to refuse new coal issues for the next five years, but to make arrangements with those now holding undeveloped mineral areas, releasing them from the obligation of starting active operations within a specific time, and that taxes should be remitted on such holdings in return for the promise not to enter production.

DEMAND BRISK FOR PROPERTY

Many Bids Received by City Of Ladysmith—Council In Session

LADYSMITH, March 19 — There is a brisk demand for property in this city, it transpired at the regular meeting of the City Council last evening. In some instances bids are received by the city for property which has not reverted, and the bidders will be referred to the owner or agents.

The status under the Compensation Act of the fire chief while on fire duty was discussed and it was decided that provision on this basis was totally inadequate, when his low monthly salary for the position was considered. The matter was referred to the fire wardens, who will consider his inclusion in the accident insurance policy that covers the other members of the volunteer fire department.

FOR BOND PAYMENT

Sewerage bonds of $8,000 fall due for payment on April 3, and $2,500 will be loaned from the electric light department to meet the shortage in the sinking funds, and make the final payment. This transaction will wipe out the city's bonded indebtedness, although the sewerage tax will continue for a time for redemption of the loan from the electric light department and for sewerage maintenance.

Alderman Atkinson asked if the council could consider ways and means of restricting the influx of new businesses into the city, where such a practice was carried to excess. The council was of the opinion that, no matter how they felt about the matter, they could not exercise powers that would restrain trade. "However unfortunate it may be," remarked Mayor Walkem, "this always proves to be a case for the survival of the fittest. If a firm observes our licensing regulations, there is little we can do about it."

A relief loan by-law for $3,300 advanced to the committee stage, and will be finally dealt with at the next regular meeting, when the city relief roll will be considered and revised.

The Electrical Installation and Inspection By-Law, which brings the existing by-law up to date with the official electrical code, was also given first and second readings, and Alderman Atkinson introduced a notice that he would move consideration of a by-law to govern plumbing installations within the city.

The auditor's report for 1935 was considered in detail. One of the recommendations in the report was that the Industrial site and water rights recently acquired by the city from the Canadian Collieries, be evaluated and included in the list of the city's fixed assets. Delinquency in electric light accounts amounts to 1.5 per cent, and it is anticipated that improved conditions will reduce this percentage during the year. The report was adopted.

HEALTH INSURANCE ACT

The Health Insurance Bill, introduced in the Legislature on Wednesday, is full of teeth which will bite hard into the domestic liberty of a large proportion of the workers of British Columbia. As has been maintained all along, the most objectionable feature of this legislation is its compulsion by new taxation which is to be forcibly collected. That taxation will fall on the individual whether he benefits from it or not; it will fall on the employer without any benefits whatever accruing to that individual. There is no assurance in the Bill that all the moneys collected by taxation will be spent in benefits. There is the indication that something like 10 per cent of the tax imposed will be spent on the bureaucratic control to be set up under the Act, which means that there will be so much the less money available for medical services in the Province, since many thousands will be spent on salaries and traveling expenses of a host of employees created because of the legislation.

The Provincial Secretary, who fathers the legislation, estimates that through taxation a revenue of over $2,000,000 will be secured. He estimates, moreover, that the number of employees affected, with their families who are to come under the benefits, will be 260,000 persons. The population of British Columbia is under 700,000, and in 1933 the amount spent for medical services of all kinds was between $13,000,000 and $15,000,000. Thus nearly 40 per cent of the population will have medical services provided for less than one-sixth of the amount that is now being spent, which indicates that such services will in no wise meet the situation. Moreover, under compulsory health insurance, all the moneys collected from taxation will not be spent for medical benefits. It may be that $200,000 per annum will go to pay the services of the bureaucratic body which will administer the scheme.

Any legislation of this character, which is actuarially sound, will do what it says it will do in the terms of the Act. That is what the legislation now launched will not do. The Bill before the Legislature is one that fools the people concerned in respect to the taxes they will have to pay. It is inequitable in its provisions respecting taxation, in that the lower salaries and wages will pay proportionately a higher rate than the higher salaries and wages. The Bill disguises this fact. For those employees who come under its provision it says that the employer shall cause to be deducted (from the payroll) the amount calculated at the rate of 2 per centum of the amount of the remuneration, except that:—the amount to be deducted shall not be less than thirty-five cents per contribution week, . . . the amount to be deducted shall not exceed seventy cents per contribution week." That just means in plain arithmetic that every employee who is earning a salary or wage of less than $910 per annum will contribute in excess of 2 per cent of that salary or wage towards the legislation. It means, as well, that every employer paying on behalf of employees who receive less than $1,040 per annum will pay more than 1 per cent tax on behalf of such employees.

The interpretation of the taxation clauses of the legislation shows that an employee with a salary of $520 ($10 a week), instead of paying 2 per cent, namely a sum of $10.40 per annum, will be called upon to pay $18.20 annually, because the minimum tax to be levied on such employee is to be 35 cents per week. Moreover, it shows that the employer paying his tax for an employee drawing $520 a year, instead of paying $5.20 per annum will be called upon to pay $10.40, which is at the rate of 2 per cent. This is because the minimum contribution of an employer on behalf of any one employee is to be 20 cents per week. In the matter of employees it can be assumed that those drawing less than $1,040 per annum are less able to pay taxes in proportion to those who draw above that sum and up to $1,800, and yet they are taxed more heavily. The Bill is wholly inequitable in the provisions noted.

If, as is suggested, the revenues to be secured through the new taxation amount to $2,000,000 per annum, then, on the basis of collections, the employees will pay two-thirds of this and the employers one-third, which means that the direct taxation on industry will be approximately at the rate of $666,000 per annum. The Provincial Secretary is of the opinion that this will not prove a handicap; industry, on the other hand, believes that it will be a definite detriment, and full representation to this effect has been made to the Government. Because industry will suffer to this extent, the assumption may well be that employees will have to bear a share of that suffering, since so many industries in the Province are working on the smallest possible margin of profit. Health insurance may well lead to reduced wages and possibly to a greater measure of unemployment, unless, generally speaking, conditions improve more rapidly than there is any indication at present.

The elaborate system of bureaucracy to be set up to administer health insurance is indicated by the fact that the Government has appropriated a sum of $50,000 for organization alone. There is to be a Commission of five members, with the chairman receiving from $5,000 to $7,500 a year; the vice-chairman receiving $3,500 per annum, plus an amount not to exceed $2,500 per annum as a member of the Commission, while the other members will each receive remuneration not to exceed $2,500 per annum. There is to be a technical advisory council who will draw traveling and other personal expenses. There is to be a director of medical services who can employ physicians, officers, employees and assistants for the purpose of administration. There are to be local committees to advise on and assist in the administration of the legislation in local districts. There is the widest possible play given for the exercise of party patronage.

Throughout practically its entirety compulsion is the hall mark of the new legislation. It even provides that every insured person, "who applies for or is in receipt of any benefits under this Act, if requested by the Commission, shall submit himself to medical examination at such time or place as it may direct. If the insured person fails to submit himself to such examination, or obstructs the same, his right to benefits may be suspended until the examination has taken place." This restriction only applies to the male gender, according to the Act; no doubt it will be amended in committee to include females as well. The exemption of those within the salary and wage limits set in the legislation is to include Christian Scientists as well as agricultural employees and any employee who is a member of an industrial medical-service plan.

In the latter connection it is noted that those who are exempt because of being embraced by other health insurance plans must have been under their operation on January 1 last. The compulsory scheme is to be put into effect by proclamation, early next year, which means that any health insurance taken out since the beginning of this year, or up to the time the Act is made operative, will be regarded as non-existent by the Government. The beneficiaries, no matter what payments they have made in advance, and no matter how satisfied they are with the insurance they have effected, will automatically come under the Government's scheme, willy nilly, although they may be paying less than they will have to pay to the Government for benefits which in many instances are greater than those which the Government can give.

The complete answer to the Provincial Secretary's claim that the scheme, as embodied in the Health Insurance Act, is actuarially sound is forthcoming in emphasizing that it is inconceivable that a sum of about $2,000,000 per annum will provide medical benefits for nearly 40 per cent of the people, when all the people voluntarily pay from $13,000,000 to $15,000,000 per annum for such benefits. As well this statement of fact bears out the contention that the legislation is half-baked, ill-considered and devised on the basis of wholly incomplete facts. Surely these aspects of the situation will be canvassed thoroughly by the Legislature, which is a deliberative body. It is axiomatic that if the legislation passes, as now devised, it will be only a very short time before the taxes it imposes will be substantially increased, and that is exactly what the people will be letting themselves in for if they approve its passage. From the standpoint of any real public demand, the legislation is a work of supererogation, merely devised to satisfy its Socialist progenitors. The Government cannot show that there is a public demand, and it is pure bigotry which refuses to submit the issue to a plebiscite of the people.

WOMEN'S WORKROOM

Few institutions of philanthropic advantage in the community have earned a greater measure of public confidence than the Women's Workroom, which has established itself firmly as a well worth-while effort for the alleviation of unemployment. It has been functioning for over four years, and has been the means of giving at least partial support to many scores of women who otherwise would have had a hard time. Always ably managed, run at the minimum of expense and securing for those in its employ whatever benefits were possible, as well as, upon occasions, finding permanent jobs for them, it has rightly enlisted a wide measure of public support. The Workroom fills a definite need in the community. So long as that need continues it should be maintained. It is dependent very largely on public philanthropy, and in the course of its appeal it is holding its annual tag day tomorrow.

This year the tag day is to commemorate the services of the late Miss M. A. Wigley, one of its founders and one who gave herself heart and soul to the task as long as she lived. Miss Wigley had a host of friends and admirers. Most, if not all Victorians, know how she toiled on behalf of those who have been helped by the Workroom. Many will, therefore, give tomorrow in remembrance of her, and because, too, they realize how deserving a cause is that to which they are being asked to contribute.

It is no proof of a man's understanding to be able to confirm whatever he pleases; but to be able to discern that what is true is true, and that what is false is false, this is the mark and character of intelligence.—Swedenborg.

Note and Comment

By R. S. D.

By the glare of false science betray'd,
That leads to bewilder and dazzles to blind.
—Beattie.

What do you do with all those papers? We have often been asked that question, and suppose everyone in our trade has been asked the question. No doubt the editor, with his desk covered with papers and the floor of his den littered with papers, has been asked that question multitudes of times. The papers seen in all newspaper offices, and sometimes in our arms, are called exchanges. Exchanging copies of newspapers is a custom which, we suppose, prevails in all countries where there is a newspaper press and it is free. Editors do not read the papers which come to their offices for the purpose of obtaining the news. They merely glance at them for the purpose of ascertaining contemporary opinion, and contemporary opinion is generally a fairly correct reflection of public opinion.

* * *

The news printed in exchanges is not really news to the editors. If it is general news of the world it already has been printed in their own papers, for the press has an exchange news bureau which supplies to all the papers the current news of the day. So that in the matter of current history the newspaper readers of British Columbia are as adequately served as the newspaper readers of almost any part of the world. Of course merely local matters come under a different category.

* * *

As an illustration of what is meant by the foregoing, glancing over a copy of The Christian Science Monitor, which probably is more of an expounder of public opinion than a disseminator of gossip, we found the following passage in an editorial with reference to the situation of the big railways of the United States and the condition of affairs in general: "A useless or parasitic job is doomed sooner or later anyway." There is a good deal of pith in that expression of opinion, for it is an expression of public opinion which may not be inapplicable to the circumstances of railway commissions and governing bodies in Canada. Members of the British Columbia Legislature should read the statement and ponder over it. Parasitic institutions as well as parasitic jobs are doomed sooner or later. Either that or the governments which create them are doomed sooner or later. Parasitic institutions are sucking the life-blood of the taxpayers of Canada.

* * *

Glancing at another exchange, The Winnipeg Free Press, we find the following expressions of opinion, which undoubtedly expresses public opinion, on the effect upon taxpayers of the policies of governments in increasing taxes and levying new taxes:

As the City Council deals with this year's budget, it is to be assumed that the present ability of the citizens to pay taxes will receive full consideration. The adding of new taxes, one after another, by the city and the governments has been the rule in recent years. It can be conclusively shown, in many ways, that the ability to pay has now greatly diminished.

For instance, there was a further increase last year in the great volume of tax arrears, in spite of a lowering of the total of the tax levies in recent years. The taxes actually collected under last year's budget were nearly three-quarters of a million dollars less than in 1931, in spite of imposing on a new tax on motorists, an increase in the water rates for general revenue purposes, and an increase in the business tax. A large amount of property again passed into the city's hands at the last tax sale, and hundreds of small home owners again asked for the privilege of working on the streets to earn their tax money and save their homes.

The provincial 2 per cent tax on salaries and incomes, which takes about $1,500,000 a year out of this city, obviously lessens the ability of the people to pay municipal taxes. It does so to a serious degree.

There are other clear indications of the diminished financial resources of the citizens of Winnipeg, from which their taxes must be paid. The provincial income tax revenue, obtained very largely from Winnipeg, fell from $1,144,802 in 1933 to $885,865 in 1935—a decrease of $259,000—in spite of lessening of the exemptions.

The above facts all point convincingly in the one direction—to the greatly reduced ability of the people of Winnipeg to pay taxes of any kind. They are suffering now under an oppressive burden of municipal and governmental exactions. There are thousands of individual taxpayers who find it extremely difficult to pay the levies on their homes, and many have lost their homes to the city or the mortgage company. Reference has been made to the men who work on sewer construction to save their homes—there have been 1,350 such cases in the last three years. There are other people in just as bad a position, men who were in comfortable circumstances a few years ago and living in good homes, who now find it almost impossible to meet their obligations. They feel their tax payments as they never did before.

This is the actual situation with the Winnipeg taxpayers—those who pay the property levy and those who pay the business levy, the motor tax and the surcharge on the water rates. It is a situation that must be recognized in the admittedly difficult matter of balancing the civic accounts.

* * *

Financially the province of British Columbia is in a deplorable state. Financially the municipalities of British Columbia are in a more deplorable state than the municipalities of Manitoba. Our taxpayers are having difficulty in meeting their obligations. The Mayor of Vancouver reiterates his statement that the city is bankrupt. The Mayor of Victoria declares that this city is practically bankrupt. Yet the Provincial Government is imposing upon the taxpayers a new tax of two million dollars, and is petitioning the Dominion Government to give it powers to impose additional taxes. The inevitability of reductions in taxation instead of further increases in taxation seems to be beyond the conception of our blind or stupid rulers.

When Lives Are at Stake

Several times recently there has been a near-accident in Oak Bay when automobiles have passed street cars as passengers were alighting. On two occasions a resident has reported such occurances to the police, and requested that some action be taken, only to be informed that her fears were groundless, as no accident had ever happened at the spot mentioned. It happens that quite recently a person was struck by an automobile at that corner and was taken into the home of the complainant, fortunately little the worse for her adventure. Does someone have to be killed before a situation becomes dangerous to the public?—H.C.M.

Humanity Versus Torture

Reading from the House of Commons Debates, unrevised edition, we find a lengthy debate on the problem of administering capital punishment, discussed under a bill to amend the Criminal Code. An honorable member says: "For thirty years I have been trying to save life and I know what it is to see people suffer. We should do what we could to end useless pain and suffering. Let us not use the law to inflict punishment on a dying man." Shakespeare said:

Vex not his ghost: O! let him pass; he hates him
That would upon the rack of this tough world
Stretch him out longer.

There is a limit to public endurance of needless suffering, and those in authority should beware they are not accused of worshipping the gods of antiquity.—R.A.G.

Kid Chocolate, former bantamweight champion, always knotted dent has reported such occurrences fore entering the ring. . . . Pony McAtee, noted jockey, allows no one to converse with him on his way to the post, while Mrs. Payne Whitney's jockey, Silvio Coucci, stops dead if he sees a black cat and won't budge until it has gone. . . . ### Chinese as She's Written

Outside the door of Liberal headquarters we spotted a large wooden box bearing the following curious printed inscription: "Stow away from boiler from china made in China." . . . Our tobacconist friend tells us a henpecked husband is described as a man whose nerve is in his wife's name. . . . The following schoolboy howler is said to have come from Saanich: "Leap year is instead of its being the next day on the same day next year it is the day after." Translate it if you can. . . . One of the shortest poems on influenza has been composed by Broad Street Bertie. It follows: "Chill. Ill. Pill. Bill." . . . Our landlady's cat must have read about Mary, the comic Elford Street cat, running away when she felt the urge of Spring. The feline, who answers to the name of Tillie, departed for parts hence the same day that Mary flew the coop. . . . That just reminded us of a short poem poppa used to warble when we had visions of skating on the pond that used to furnish much fun at the corner of Mitchell and Granite Streets long ago. Take it away; "Willie Bates. New skates Broken ice. Heavens gates."—G.B.

"How did your wife like the diamond brooch you gave her for her birthday?" "Delighted! She was awfully nice for a couple of days; but she's herself again now."

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of March 20, 1886.

The Boulders Go. Yesterday morning Mayor Fell gave orders to the street superintendent to cause the removal of the boulders from the street corners, in accordance with the thrice-repeated command of the city council. The boulders at Campbell's corner were among the first to go, and the work will be continued until all the dangerous obstructions have been taken away. The place of destination is Finlayson's brides.

Visitors Arriving. The number of people arriving in the city has been constantly increasing of late, and the hotels are generally full. It is not infrequent that a page and a half of names cover the registers in a number of the hotels as the day's arrivals. This is early in the season for large travel, and it is anticipated among hotel men that next month and after the opening of the Canadian Pacific Railway for through travel that the hotel accommodation here will be soo limited.

Medal for the Volunteers. The London Graphic of February 25 contains facsimiles of the medals to be presented by the Imperial Government to the volunteers who took part in the suppression of the Northwest Rebellion. The face of the medal contains the Queen's head and the words "Victoria Regina et Imperatrix." On the obverse side is a wreath of maple leaves and in the centre the words "Northwest (1885) Canada."

FINDS BETTER SPIRIT ABROAD

Milton A. Willment, Supreme Regent of Royal Arcanum, Visits City

Pleased with the renewed enthusiasm, indicative of better times generally, and the keen interest being found among members in every part of Canada and the United States, Milton A. Willment, of New York City, supreme regent of the Royal Arcanum, arrived here Wednesday afternoon with Thomas J. L. Kennedy, Seattle, and Grand Regent John L. Matthiesen, Spokane.

Asked what message he had for the local division, Majestic Council No. 1513, Mr. Willment explained with a smile that a message was not needed here, and his visit was in recognition of the fine work of the local council.

"The group here has always been very much alive and contains a fine class of men," he said.

IMPROVEMENT GENERAL

Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Matthiesen, at a meeting of the local council on Wednesday night, judged the degree team. The team placed third in the entire order three years ago.

Since his election to office last August, Mr. Willment has traveled 40,000 miles on the North American Continent. He studied conditions and reports definite improvements everywhere. The supreme regent expressed his sincere belief in the future of the North American Continent, saying it could not be held back for long. The general spirit of the people, he stated, had improved.

TEXAS BOOMING

Texas was enjoying a boom in many lines at the present time, he found. Many Eastern businessmen were transferring their businesses to that state. Mr. Willment thought the Pacific Coast was enjoying a more pronounced return to better times.

The supreme regent is a successful New York lawyer, of Canadian parents. He is slightly under average height, with a ruddy, cheerful face and wavy reddish-brown hair. He has an engaging personality and readily makes friends wherever he goes.

"SOCIAL CREDIT" AND EMPIRE DEFENCE

Sir,—The imminent danger of another great war, caused by the violations of international treaties and the League of Nations' Covenant by Germany and Italy, and to which Covenant and one of the treaties Canada is a contracting party, surely furnish enough food for serious thought and stocktaking without having the public mind distracted and disturbed by continuous discussions of impracticable ideas.

The irresponsible Mr. Jull and other theorists, who almost daily fill your correspondence columns with futile advocacy of a policy that can never be put into effect, evince a very distorted perception of matters vitally important as compared with affairs of (at best) only academic interest. They seem to have no idea of the eternal fitness of things.

Canadians and other Britishers hold a vast heritage, portions of which certain powers would doubtless like to possess. We have more real liberty (even to the limit of ruining ourselves) than peoples in other less-favored lands, and our very best markets for buying and selling lie within the Empire. What are we doing in Canada to protect either the one or the ohter? Practically nothing.

If the heart of the Empire is wrecked by forces from the air or subdued by a combination of air, land and marine forces, all the liberties and material advantages we enjoy will probably vanish. If the ocean highways are barred to our commerce by hostile powers at any time; if Australia, South Africa or our Pacific Coast should be invaded, we will be contributory accomplices to our own undoing because of our culpable negligence in not being prepared to help in mutual defence.

Mr. Jull said that he would continue writing letters to the press (presumably on D.S.C.) until someone hit him over the head. If he would tell us some other means, within the law, of causing him to cease, many of your readers would rise up and call him blessed.

All the best statesmen of the world are anxious and willing to put into effect any policy that will make for the betterment of all classes of people; bearing in mind the justice, truth and mercy creed, but not one plan proposed by Major Douglas or any of his apostles commends itself to statesmen with responsibilities of office.

Mr. Aberhart, inspired by Major Douglas, thought he had a plan that would work. He bought his way to a political victory. He received hearty congratulations cabled by the major. Assuming office, he found out that his plans would not work. He frantically cabled several times for Major Douglas to come out and put a plan into operation. Major Douglas refused to come and cancelled his position as adviser to the Alberta Government because he knows perfectly well that it is impossible to put any Social Credit policy into effect.

All "Social Credit" books and advocates make the same fundamental error in ignoring the basic principles of wealth production and distribution. Capital and labor are both required to produce wealth and wealth cannot be distributed gratis without taking it from those who produce it. Robbery to be enforced by the minions of the law, when all is said for Social Credit that can be said.

Vote for something for nothing and get what they are getting in Alberta: a demoralized and almost broken-hearted population.

SUCCESSION TO THRONE

Sir,—Will you or some of your readers please give me the correct answers to the following questions?

If a son is born to the Duke and Duchess of York, does he take precedence over his sisters, Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret Rose?

If no son is born, has Princess Elizabeth prior right to the throne over her younger sister, or are the two girls joint heiresses subject to selection by constituted authority? This latter point was remarked upon in one of your contemporaries as being correct, although contrary to general public opinion.

If King Edward VIII marries a commoner and children by such a marriage are not eligible, why then are the children of the Duchess of York, a commoner, eligible?

Answers would be appreciated in order to settle a discussion.

COMPULSORY HEALTH INSURANCE

Sir,—As a resident and taxpayer in British Columbia for the last thirty-five years, I feel I must at this time express my feelings re health insurance. I am a married man, permanently employed, wages, $80 per month; less the 1 per cent tax, $9.60 per year. We own our own home, so have our taxes, upkeep of property to attend to, and have always taken a pride in making our home attractive inside and out. I have also always succeeded in meeting my past expenses, both in sickness and health.

Now we are told we can expect another 2 per cent off our wages. Not a word is said about the 1 per cent tax they have made our employers deduct from our monthly wage cheque; filling out countless forms to secure money that should never have been kept from married men on small salaries.

Sir, let me tell your readers I am just fed up with the way the present Government is treating its honest working men. If it wants health insurance, then let everyone on a salary, large or small, take his share in it, and let every man (or woman) in need, benefit from it. Also, give every taxpayer his right to vote yes or no. Our city and Government give grants for publicity to bring in the tourists so that they will buy homes here. What have they done for our young men? How many have they found employment for? I have seen many lads full of fire and energy growing into young men, out of employment, ambition lost, beaten before they get a chance to prove what they could do. How is the Government treating the older men, fathers of families, men around the "sixties," still carrying on to save their homes from the tax sale. Their sons, most of them, are out of employment. Our local doctors will tell you these are not the men who dodge their hospital bills. The Government knows it, too, so it says, put on another 2 per cent tax; he will pay it all right. Doesn't he pay our salaries, too?

Now, what about the tourist who locates here? Let me tell you of a real case here in Victoria. I don't want to say too much, or yet too little. A certain person, who employs four married men besides three other servants, arrives home after a long absence abroad, pleased to be home again, but weary with travel and heavy colds. What awaits said employer—seven or nine income papers in duplicate, also the new blue slips to give employee.

The local papers are full of health insurance, "more taxes," "more red tape," more forms to be filled out. Is it any wonder that the said employer goes to the staff and tells them that if there are any more new taxes it will probably mean the closing of said establishment. They could go back East and escape all these British Columbia taxes and forms galore that have to be filled out by the employee every three months. And mark you, for married men, who are exempt from these taxes.

Why does not the Government do away with this tax on married men earning less than $1,000 to $1,800? Let the Government officials place themselves in these men's positions for a minute; they see the accounts of Government and city employees getting their wages brought back to the old scales, and they are hoping against hope that they may get theirs also. But no! The Government has got its "employers' goat." What will the Health Insurance Act do? Well, it will drive out of the province the very class of people that the city and Government are paying out large sums of the taxpayers' money to bring into the province, causing loss of employment to the men who work for them.

Yes, Mr. Editor, I will admit I was one of these men who was told these things by my employer. I used to pride myself on being an Independent Liberal. The Liberal Government was given a large majority to see if it would better conditions. And what has it done? Just loaded down the willing old horse with more taxes. But it is the last few pounds that may make the old horse jump the traces. And when election day comes around, I will venture to say there will be very few that will vote for the Government that denies its taxpayers the right to vote yes or no for health insurance.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock, add 18.6 feet to the height of high water as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Songhees drydock, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

Swallows Return to California Mission At Scheduled Time

Birds Arrive on San Juan Day as They Have Done For Seventy Years—Another Flock Has Reached Tacoma

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Cal., March 19 (AP).—The swallows, winged wanderers of Mission San Juan Capistrano, came home today to the adobe walls that have received them on March 19, St. Joseph's Day, for seventy years.

As long as the oldest inhabitant of this little mission town can remember, the swallows have flown away on San Juan Day, October 23, and flown back to the eaves of the old church on March 19.

Slightly ahead of "schedule," several hundred of the graceful birds came in from the western sky last night, nesting in a walnut grove before starting to dispossess a flock of yellow-tailed sparrows from the nests they left last Fall.

Don Juan Aguilar, mission guide, said it was the first time in his records that the little Summer visitors had not gone directly to the mission.

The extra calendar day of Leap Year had never before caused the birds to deviate from their March 19 arrival, Aguilar declared.

WAR AT TACOMA

TACOMA, March 19 (AP).—War between swallows and sparrows broke out on a hitherto unreported front today—at Day Island, Tacoma suburb.

At almost exactly the same hour swallows chose to oust sparrows from the eaves of Mission San Juan Capistrano in California, an army of the violet-green species of swallows swooped down on Day Island putting sparrows to flight and setting up Summer homes.

Walter Chappell, Tacoma cigar dealer, asserted the influx of swallows here follows the San Juan Capistrano invasion almost to the hour every year, as does the departure on or about October 23.

MUST START EARLIER

"I believe the Tacoma swallows must start from their Mexican quarters a few days before those intending to stop in California," he said.

Chappell and Stanton Warburton, amateur naturalist, agreed the Tacoma swallows differ in one habit from their California brothers. If weather is good when they arrive, they immediately begin to build and rebuild nests. If weather is bad, or becomes bad shortly after their arrival, the swallows often disappear entirely for one or two days, then come back to start their building belatedly.

SPRING FLOWER SHOW ARRANGED

Victoria Horticultural Association Display to Be Held Here April 24 and 25

Always a feature of the Spring season, the annual Spring Flower Show of the Vancouver Island Horticultural Association will be held in the Main Building at the Willows Exhibition Grounds on Friday and Saturday, April 24 and 25.

Preceding the display at the Willows, some of the more beautiful gardens of Victoria and district will be thrown open for inspection by the general public. This added attraction to the Spring show was given great acclaim last year, and the many gardens proved to be an inspiration to garden-minded spectators.

Through its affiliation with twelve other Island horticultural organizations, executives of the Vancouver Island Association stated last night that many exhibits would be on display by members of these societies.

TULIP DISPLAYS

Displays of early tulips and daffodils are among the flowers which will be featured in the coming show.

Among the affiliated societies of the Vancouver Island group are the Alberni District Horticultural Society, the Bamberton Society, Comox Agricultural and Industrial Society, Cowichan Agricultural Society, Metchosin Community Club, Langford Women's Institute, Ladysmith Society, North and South Saanich Society, Royal Oak Women's Institute, Oak Bay Rose Society, Victoria Society and Victoria Women's Institute.

Secretary W. H. Warren, city parks superintendent, stated that prize lists will be issued next week and will be available from him at that time.

Some valuable awards for displays were reported to be offered, and a large entry in the show was anticipated.

Great Britain Building Up Her Air Forces

Nearly every motor car factory in Britain is now turning out planes for British and other Governments. Some firms have even stopped manufacturing motor cars altogether except on special orders, finding more profit in manufacturing enough planes to build Britain's Air Force. Top right, a consignment ready for Portugal. Left, British fighting airplanes in manoeuvres. Below, a section of Britain's already huge fleet, which totals more than 1,000.

CABINET APPROVES FOUR-POWER PLAN

workable scheme to bring the tension to an end.

When the plan's full terms are published it is felt here the risk of war will be definitely laid to rest.

The plan falls into three periods:

1. Infraction by Germany of the Versailles and Locarno Treaties and measures dealing with it.

2. Interim period between now and the opening of negotiations for a final settlement.

3. The laying down of the new structure by the international conference.

BEFORE WORLD COURT

Germany will be invited to lay her case before the Court of International Justice at The Hague. The court will be asked to decide whether the Franco-Soviet Pact is in conformity or not with the Treaty of Locarno.

Arrangements will be made in regard to a demilitarized zone to be applicable during the interim period until negotiations for a final settlement begin. Germany is not to be asked to withdraw any of her forces out of the zone. But the plan contemplates, it is reported, a temporary German belt opposite the Belgian and French frontiers policed by an international force. In any final plan, however, the arrangement will be mutual, extending the neutral belt to both sides of the frontier. The plan further provides, according to current report, for collaboration between the British and French general staffs.

DRAFT RESOLUTIONS

Early next week, in all probability, draft resolutions will be submitted to the League Council.

(a) Reaffirming the Stresa Declaration in regard to the sanctity of treaties.

(b) Requesting the council to refer the question whether the Franco-Soviet Pact is in conformity with Locarno to the Hague Court.

(c) Requesting the council to take note of the various proposals which the Locarno powers put forward in their plan.

Agreement on the plan meant concessions by all the Locarno powers. France entered the negotiations definitely declaring she would not negotiate while German troops remained in the Rhineland. On this she conceded a point. It is hoped that the Germans, despite Herr von Ribbentrop's uncompromising speech today, will now realize that all must make concessions if a settlement is to be reached.

INDICTMENT OVERSHADOWED

This development, the major one of six days of negotiations and bickering among the worried European powers, overshadowed a formal indictment of Germany by the League of Nations' Council today as a violator of the Locarno and Versailles Treaties.

The council heard a spokesman for unrepentant Germany defend her remilitarization of the Rhineland then unanimously adopted a resolution condemning her for violation of the Locarno and Versailles Treaties.

Family portraits of the House of Hanover looked down upon the tense scene in Queen Anne's drawing-room of the Palace of St. James as the diplomats officially affixed the stamp of guilt upon Germany.

Germany's sole "Nein" was the only opposition registered in the quiet drawing-room as Stanley Bruce, of Australia, president of the council, called the roll of nations. This vote did not count, nor did those of France or Belgium, who brought the charge against the Reich.

REJECTS PROPOSALS

BERLIN, March 19 (AP).—The Foreign Office, centring bitter comment once more on the Franco-Soviet Military Pact, rejected as "unacceptable" tonight the reported Locarno proposal to adjust German violation of the Mutual Security Treaty.

A Foreign Office spokesman expressed surprise at the unanimous vote by the League of Nations Council in condemning Germany as a Locarno violator and declared the Nazi nation would "accept nothing less than parity meaning a two-sided demilitarized zone" during Rhineland negotiations.

The Foreign Office officials commented sharply on the fact that no voice was raised today in support of the German thesis that the Franco-Russian Treaty first broke the Locarno Pact thus creating extenuating circumstances for the German action.

the Conservatives during the absence of Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett.

Sir George thought Mr. Rogers should give the House a full explanation of the bill before the preliminary resolution was passed, but Prime Minister Mackenzie King said this would only cause confusion and it was better for the members to wait until they received copies of the bill.

MAY OBJECT LATER

The resolution passed and received first reading on the understanding that the members would be free to object later to any clauses, even to the establishment of a commission.

Mr. King remarked the Bennett Government had attempted to administer unemployment relief through the Labor Department and had not been successful. Had a commission been established five years ago the problem might not exist now.

This was his reply to John R. Macnicol (Conservative, Toronto-Davenport), who said the country was "being commissioned to death" and thought the Labor Department should do the work.

MANSLAUGHTER IS VERDICT OF JURY

His Lordship asked if there were any objections to his charge, and Mr. Harvey, counsel for the defence, cited some six or seven authorities for new points of direction he wished His Lordship to give to the jury. The judge acquiesced in some of the instances, and refrained to direct in others.

The jury then retired to the jury room, where lunch was served to prevent them from coming in contact with the public. At 2:30 p.m. the court met again, and Mr. Justice Robertson stated he had received a communication from Dr. Burden, of Rest Haven, who expressed a wish to alter some of his previous testimony.

There was a short legal skirmish in respect to this letter, which resulted in Mr. Harvey being allowed to retire to consult the accused and examine Booth in respect to an indentation in his skull, referred to in Dr. Burden's letter. On his return, Mr. Harvey applied for the recall of the doctor to the stand, whereupon the jury was recalled and instructed to cease its discussion of the evidence.

RESUMES STAND

The court then adjourned for thirty-five minutes to allow Dr. Burden time to come in from Sidney. On his arrival, he took the stand and, under cross-examination by Mr. Harvey, said that he wished to change his testimony in respect to that given in answer to the question of whether he had examined the accused in connection with a head injury. At the time of questioning, Dr. Burden had said he did not remember treating Booth for a head injury.

Since giving his testimony, Dr. Burden stated he remembered having examined a man who had an indentation of his skull, but could not remember who the man was. Prior to resuming the stand, he was allowed to examine Booth's head, and identified him as the man in question.

Booth, witness said, had come to him some three years ago, complaining of dizziness. The witness, under questioning, declared this injury might very well have had an effect on Booth's condition. He stated that such an injury might change a man's disposition, or create disturbances, but not necessarily. The changes would be of a mental nature, he added, under questioning from Mr. Harvey.

Henry C. Hall, K.C., Crown prosecutor, then cross-examined, and obtained from Dr. Burden the admission that such an injury would not necessarily cause insanity.

JUDGE'S QUESTIONS

Mr. Justice Robertson also questioned the witness and learned from Dr. Burden that the injury might make one's temper less easily controlled, or more easily disturbed and create a nervous condition. When examined three years ago by Dr. Burden, the accused was somewhat despondent, which was a condition to which the doctor had already testified.

This examination was followed by a short address by Mr. Harvey and Mr. Hall to the jury, and another brief charge to the jury by His Lordship.

The events of yesterday were preceded on other occasions throughout the trial of withdrawal of the jury, while counsel argued contentious points, this coupled with the interjection of defence counsel at every point that might be used in the accused's favor, together with the emotional condition of Booth, made the trial probably one of the most dramatic that has been held here for some time.

CHARGES JURY

Pointing out that the essence of murder is the guilty intent, His Lordship explained to the jury in considering the defence, they had to consider either insanity or provocation. He then read the law in regard to these two points. If, in the opinion of the jury, insanity existed in the accused, then they could find him not guilty. If there was sufficient provocation, then the offence might be reduced to manslaughter.

The judge was most careful to point out the law that affected the forming of these conclusions, and also pointed out that the defendant was innocent until proven guilty, and that it was not the responsibility of the Crown, but counsel for the defence to bring out proof of insanity. His Lordship directed the jury as to the meaning of insanity, and also the meaning of hallucination and delusion. He even explained by giving illustrations.

He then explained that it was the duty of the Crown to prove the accused guilty beyond all reasonable doubt, and then added that temper did not necessarily mean insanity. He also mentioned what was reasonable doubt and then reviewed the evidence in its entirety. He dwelt extensively on all evidence that pertained to the sanity of the accused, and also the existence of provocation. He quoted Dr. J. H. Moore's evidence in full, and also that of the accused, and likewise went to great length into the testimony given by Dr. J. G. McKay, psychiatrist. The evidence of the children also was reviewed in detail.

Small detachments of British and Italian troops would be installed in front of France's Maginot line as a "symbol" that Berlin is willing to demilitarize the frontier.

British and Italian guarantees would be given France and Belgium that the Locarno defensive agreement would be maintained until after the Hague Court decision on the Franco-Soviet mutual assistance pact. If the decision is favorable, France guarantees to become a permanent part of any accords growing out of Hitler's peace offers.

SAANICH BOARD FACES DEFICIT

School Trustees May End Current Year With $1,000 Overdraft

Saanich School Board may end the year with a deficit of $1,000, it was indicated at a board session Wednesday night.

The deficit, it was said, would be caused by a decreased grant of $440 from the Provincial Government; an added cost of $90 per month for health insurance; and an increase in fuel costs. None of these items was considered with the estimates already filed with the municipal council.

The school board was notified by Dr. S. J. Willis, deputy minister of education that a downward revision of grants to teachers' salaries affecting Saanich has been made. The school board, however, had estimated on the same basis as 1935.

TARDY NOTIFICATION

Decision of the Provincial Government to cut the grants had not been told to the school board until ten days after the legal date when the council must file its estimates with the municipal council, February 15. This, therefore, it was said, did not give the board time enough to make provisions for the loss of grants in compiling the estimates.

It was stated that if the State Health Insurance Bill was passed in the Legislature, the cost to the municipal school board would total about $90 per month. Provision for this contingency had not been made in the 1936 estimates. Increased fuel costs during the recent cold snap had also taken up a large portion of the fuel estimate, it was stated.

FINAL TRIBUTE TO DEPARTED IS PAID

Large Congregation Attends Funeral of W. J. Goepel at St. Mary's Church

St. Mary's Anglican Church, Oak Bay, was filled with sorrowing friends yesterday afternoon, when the funeral services for William John Goepel, former deputy minister of finance, were held by Rev. Canon Nunns.

Many municipal, city and governmental officials and dignitaries were present to pay final tribute to the deceased, who was held in high esteem in the community in which he had lived for so many years.

A wealth of floral wreaths and sprays also testified to the regard in which Mr. Goepel was held, and to the many friends he had in this city, and other parts of the Province.

The choir was in attendance, and joined in the singing of the Twenty-Third Psalm. One hymn, "Where the Light Forever Shineth," was sung.

Canon Nunns also conducted the graveside service at the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

The pallbearers were Dr. S. A. K. White, H. E. Beasley, H. H. Cullis, Hon. John Hart, J. E. Wilson and W. H. Bullock-Webster.

MINES PROMISE GREAT FUTURE

Governor-General Has High Opinion of Possibilities In Canada

OTTAWA, March 19 (CP). — Belief that Canada was the richest mineral area on earth, which "our grandchildren's grandchildren will not exhaust," was expressed here, tonight, by Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General, to the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

Speaking at a dinner closing the three-day meeting of the institute, Lord Tweedsmuir said mining was no longer a gamble, except in its first stage. It speedily becomes a highly organized business and an exact science. Up-to-date business methods and every new development in chemical and mechanical science were being used.

A PLEASING FEATURE

One feature about Canadian mining pleased him. "In most mining areas—certainly in South Africa—the prospector, the man who did the pioneering work, did not reap the fruits of his labor. That was left to the capitalist who came after him, who never stirred from his office chair. But here, not only has the prospector often made the big money, but he has stuck to it.

"It is a wonderful piece of good fortune for Canada that, in these difficult days, when agriculture all over the world is in straits and when normal industries are crippled, you should have found this new source of wealth, much of which can be as readily cashed as a Bank of England note."

PAY LAST HONOR TO C. E. TISDALL

Many Public Bodies Represented at Funeral of Well-Known Civic Leader

VANCOUVER, March 19 (CP.—Hundreds of citizens, civic employees and British Columbia Government officials paid last tribute today to Alderman Charles E. Tisdall, well-known civic leader and one time Mayor of Vancouver.

Alderman Tisdall was confined to his bed a week ago, but it was thought that he was only run down from over-work as he had been acting mayor during the absence of Mayor G. G. McGeer. Pneumonia set in, however, and he died on Tuesday.

The funeral services at Christ Church Cathedral, conducted by Archbishop A. U. De Pencier, who was assisted by Rev. C. C. Owen, Dr. W. Ramsay Armitage and Rev. F. K. Belton, were attended by representatives of many civic and provincial bodies and of the Masonic Craft, of which he was a veteran member.

After the services at the cathedral the funeral cortege proceeded through the business section of the city to the Mountain View Crematorium.

Echoes From The Gallery

Before committees of the House a plan developed to urge the Government to connect the P.G.E. terminus at Squamish with West Vancouver, by the building of a standard gauge highway at an estimated cost of $1,080,000. The recommendation is conditional on funds being available, with a request for early action.

E. D. Barrow, veteran member for Chilliwack, told his colleagues on the Government side plainly that he could not support the health bill. Farmers, he said, would not benefit under the measure, and might suffer in further discrimination when compared with city workers, already in receipt of higher average incomes.—S.G.

Hon. G. M. Sloan, K.C., divided his address into three parts. In one, he made explanation of what had occurred at Corbin mine troubles a year ago. In another, he traced with legal precision the progress of Dominion-Provincial discussions on coming amendments to Canada's constitution. In the last part, Mr. Sloan recited the Liberal pre-election programme, to say that all save 10 per cent of it had already been carried out.

The British Columbia Legislature's nineteenth day of unrelieved debate on main and budget speeches will end today.

The budget debate will conclude. The budget debate will conclude, simultaneously, in its seventh day with Hon. A. W. Gray to close it. Yesterday the House sat in afternoon and evening periods, to hear a variety of argument from many members. The House may sit Saturday.

CLAIMS RUSSIA NEARING IDEAL

Dr. Anna Strong Declares Soviet Will Be Wholly Socialistic in 1937

"Today, for the Soviet Union, socialism is in sight. By 1937 it will be complete, socialism will be victorious. A new constitution is now being made under which it will be possible to get a direct response to the will of the people," Dr. Anna Louise Strong, associate editor of The Moscow Daily News, told an audience of approximately 800 persons in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium here last night.

The subject of Dr. Strong's lecture, which was given under the auspices of the Victoria branch of the Friends of the Soviet Union, was "I Change Worlds," based on her own book of the same name, and included a general review of the fundamentals of the organization of government and workers in Russia and examples of the methods adpoted by the Soviet Governments in the last twenty years. She also gave an interesting explanation of the method of elections and the manner of carrying out the instructions of the people to their Government, through deputies and voluntary aides.

SYSTEMATIC PLANNING

The lecture was in no wise a propagandist attack on the capitalist systems of the rest of the world, but a frank description of the operation of the socialist principle—ownership of the means of production for the benefit of those who work—as carried out in Russia by systematic planning over a period of years.

Dr. Strong admitted the task of taking control of the means of production, in a country with a standard of living similar to that of Europe in the Middle Ages was a tremendous one. The main difficulty at the commencement of the socialist regime was to obtain skilled engineers to train the "new owners" of industry. The transition period, she declared, saw many failures and much waste of machinery and materials. In the first five years it became necessary to absorb 11,000,000 persons from the land into industry and, she said, the process was exceedingly slow and costly.

RUSSIA'S INDUSTRIES

Comparing the conditions from 1928, Dr. Strong said there had been an increase in goods turnover, in 1935, of 20,000,000 rubles, because there was more money to purchase the goods and whatever was made was consumed by those who produced. Through the joint ownership of the means of production, Russia had risen to the position of the second industrial nation in the world.

Dr. Strong, speaking of elections, mentioned that Russia had a voting strength of 91,000,000 persons, male and female, over eighteen years of age. Anyone who is working may vote, she said, and in all Russia today there was less than 2 per cent of the population without the franchise, made up of those who live by profits. The Government is the central business staff for the people. As an example she stated 48,000 instructions were given the Government in 1934 by the various industrial groups. There were, she said, about 50,000 persons in Moscow working voluntarily for the Government and taking care of the instructions.

YOUTH AND STUDY

The speaker also gave an insight into the daily life of the average young person in Russia. They have the right to select their own particular industrial activity or special course in science, geology or chemistry. They are paid a salary, not very much, while attending university. These salaries, she said, were paid by the industry to which the young man or woman would become attached after completion of studies. Dr. Strong intimated there was nothing compulsory about the system of education, but it was always understood that the student completing a course would go to whatever branch of the industry most needing his services.

Dr. Strong's address took forty-five minutes, and afterwards she answered questions from the audience which covered a wide range and included politics, peace and war, economics and various other items concerning the new social order in the Soviet Union.

Dr. Strong was introduced by Mrs. R. P. Steeves, C.C.F. member for North Vancouver in the Provincial Legislature, who predicted that in a few years Soviet Russia would be an example and "an inspiration to the rest of the world and a living proof that socialism will work." E. J. Farmer was chairman and Thomas Uphill, M.P.P. for Fernie, occupied a seat on the platform.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

ECZEMA

It is estimated that a little more than half the patients who consult physicians have, after careful examination, no organic trouble. The very fact that this examination revealed no trouble is often enough to quiet the fears of a large percentage of these cases.

Similarly it is estimated that a little more than half the skin ailments existing are due to eczema. If the cause of this eczema is sought, it can usually be found and relief given to the patient, as many eczema patients consider their skin eruption as likely to be of a cancerous or tuberculous nature, and are naturally much upset.

Most skin specialists believe that eczema is caused by the way the body handles certain foods. There can't be anything wrong with the foods because others eat these same foods without having any symptoms such as eczema or indigestion. This is in line with the fact that we all breathe in the pollen of ragweed in the late Summer and early Autumn, and yet only one in every five or six is troubled with hay fever, the other four or five have no symptoms whatever.

Just as hay fever patients, by avoiding pollen by going to certain districts or living for a certain number of hours daily in rooms which filter out the pollen, so also can many eczema patients be cured by avoiding certain foods.

The big point, of course, is to find the particular food or foods causing the trouble. In babies and little children it has been found that in an effort to keep up their weight the youngsters have been given too much milk. Avoiding over-feeding and using skimmed milk or butter milk instead of whole milk cures a number of cases. If this does not give results, other foods—eggs, cereals, other types of flour foods, and certain kinds of prepared milks—which may be the cause, will have to be searched for and avoided.

In older children, particularly of the nervous type, eczema is often cured by the use of a vegetable diet.

Notwithstanding the fact that the food treatment and the use of gland extracts give good results, most skin specialists still advise the use of various ointments containing sulphur, zinc, tar and other substances to help correct the skin condition itself.

SAYS BETTER MINING CONDITIONS HELPING STATE OF COLORADO

With mining conditions improved this year by 100 per cent, Colorado is enjoying the best time it has known for several years, according to A. G. Thies, Denver merchant, who is at the Empress Hotel with Mrs. Thies. The couple were recently married and are now on their honeymoon.

Mr. Thies attributed the improvement in the mining industry to the boosted price of gold, which the state is now producing in large quantities.

Celebrations in Families Become Vogue in London

Hostesses Look For Party Ideas That Are Out of the Ordinary but Not Too Festive for Entertaining During Court Mourning

By JOAN LITTLEFIELD

(Copyright, 1936, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

LONDON, March 19. — One result of court mourning is that society is going earlier to bed. Although, at the King's wish, charity balls will be held as usual during the season, no pageants or sideshows will be included and they will end at 2 a.m., instead of 3 a.m. or later. This means that the ballroom breakfast is doomed, and many hostesses have decided not to serve this fashionable early hour meal in future.

Ideas for parties that are out of the ordinary without being too festive are now being evolved. For the Horseshoe Ball on May 28—the day after the Derby—the programme will be: Dinner at 9 o'clock; film premiere from 10 to 11:30; then a small dance for the younger generation until 2 a.m.

Music will play a large part in this not-too-festive season, and hostesses will make up parties for concerts and the opera.

This change in the social timetable is altering the habits of Mayfair. Women who go to bed earlier also are getting up earlier. Mornings are more leisurely. There is no crowded social programme to necessitate a hectic round of beauty parlors and noon-tide sherry parties. And so the fashionable woman has begun to do her own marketing. She is anxious to glean new ideas in entertaining, and one of them is to search for novelties in the food departments.

The dearth of social functions has brought back a great Victorian institution — the family gathering. Family celebrations of birthdays, comings-of-age and wedding anniversaries are now the vogue at the most sophisticated West End restaurants. Often three generations are present at these functions, which are held in the restaurant where other guests are also dining. Recently a silver wedding party took place in Park Lane; when the silver wedding cake was brought in, diners at other tables rose and cheered, a spontaneous act that gave a modern touch to this old-world type of party.

Horse Show Will Be Held on April 17

Rehearsals for the Spring Horse Show to be given by the Victoria Riding Club in the Horse Show Building at the Willows, on Friday, April 17, began last evening. The show will be under the auspices of the Junior W.A. of the Jubilee Hospital, and a committee has already been formed to make plans for the show, which promises to be one of exceptional interest. In the above photograph are Miss Terese Todd and Mr. and Mrs. N. Van der Vliet, who will be among those taking part in the gymkhana.

Juniors to Be at Home To Friends

The monthly meeting of the Junior Musical Art Society will be held at the home of Mrs. Wallace Gunn, Victoria Avenue, this evening at 8 o'clock. Owing to the inclemency of the weather, the February meeting was postponed and it is hoped there will be a 100 per cent attendance.

The guest artist will be Jack Townsend, who will sing two groups, accompanied by Mrs. C. C. Warn.

The junior members taking part will be Maquinna Daniels, Marjorie Margison and Geraldine Paget-Mellor, pianist; Betty Sledge, and Alan Paver, violinists; and Barbara Daniels, vocalist.

In February the juniors presented a programme for the Metropolitan Young People's Society in honor of Handel's birthday, February 23, the guest artist being Miss Gwen Harper, who gave an interesting lecture followed by a piano solo, "Harmonious Blacksmith"; and Gilbert Margison, who played a group of violin solos. The members taking part were Molly Charles, pianist; Sheila Conway and Elsie Friend, vocal; Bert Botten, 'cello; and a trio composed of Margaret Pringle, piano; John Pimm, violin; and Bert Botten, 'cello.

CATHOLIC

At the monthly educational meeting of the Catholic Young People's Club on Wednesday evening, Rev. Father J. L. Bradley gave an interesting talk on "The Churches of Rome," which, he said, depicted the history of the Catholic Church in stone. As an example, he mentioned St. Clement's, beneath which were two earlier churches, the lowest thought to be part of St. Clement's house. In the first three centuries there were no churches, the liturgy being celebrated in the principal rooms of the houses of prominent Christians, whence the traditional nave-apse form of church-building. He next spoke of the catacombs and the evidence they afforded of the liturgical customs of the early Roman Christians. Questions and discussion, in which many took part, followed Father Bradley's address. Special thanks are due the following for their help in making the meeting such a success: Mona Kelpin, Helen Carlin, Josephine and Marie McDonough and Doh Kissinger. Next Sunday the members of the C.Y.P.C. will receive Holy Communion together at the 9.30 Mass.

Mrs. Charles Wilson convened the unusually delightful musical programme, which included the following numbers: By Mrs. F. G. Aldous, contralto, "My Dear Soul," "In a Garden" (Hawley), "Old Flagged Path" (Arundel) and "In My Garden"; by Mrs. F. M. MacPherson, mezzo-soprano, who accompanied herself at the piano, "Mistress Margarita" (Penn), "In Estrellita" (Ponce), "Keep on Hopin'," "Lilac Tree" (Gartlan), "Baby" (Bertrand Brown), "How Do I Know I Love You" and "Desert Song"; and by Frank Ivings, "My Sweet Repose," "For You Alone" (Geehl), "Rose of Tralee" (Glover), "Garden of Your Heart," and two songs, with violin obbligato played by Miss Bebe Warn, "Out of the Dusk to You" and "Sylvia." Mrs. C. C. Warn played the accompaniments for Mrs. Aldous and Mr. Ivings.

The Reverend Mother Provincial and Sister Superior, Sister Mary Elfreda, received and listed the donations, assisted by Sister Mary Kathleen, Sister Mary Gabriel, Sister Mary Fintan and some of the nursing sisters.

The Sister Superior and sisters of St. Joseph's Hospital wish to thank all their friends who donated linen and cash offerings to their shower; also Mrs. McDermott, convener of the linen shower, and Mrs. Charles Wilson and all those who took part in the musical programme.

Dancing was later enjoyed, the spot dance being won by Miss Jean McLean and Mr. James Logie. At midnight, supper was served, the table being prettily decorated in green and yellow with large vases of daffodils and fern at each end. Assisting were Mrs. Bernell and Misses Grace Gibbons and Vera Kerslake. About eighty-ve guests were present.

Church Pretty At Wedding of Duncan Nurse

DUNCAN, March 19.—A pretty wedding was quietly solemnized at St. John's Church this evening, when Rev. A. Bischlager united in marriage Alice Jean, younger daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Campbell, and Mr. Eric Springford, younger son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Percival Springford, of England.

The church was decorated by friends of the bride, under the direction of Mrs. E. G. Sanford, with cherry blossoms, yellow tulips and daffodils. The bride made a charming picture in a frock of Marina blue with matching hat. She carried an arm bouquet of blooms shading from coral to pale yellow. Mr. E. G. Sanford gave the bride away, and Mr. Desmond Crofton, of Ganges, acted as best man.

RECEPTION HELD

After the ceremony a reception, given by the nursing staff of the King's Daughters' Hospital, was held at the Nurses' Home, the bride being a graduate of that institution and up to the time of her marriage was a member of the staff. The decorations at the Nurses' Home were carried out in mauve and white, the King's Daughters' colors, mauve crocus and snowdrops being used. The bride's sister, Miss Helene Campbell, of Vancouver, assisted in receiving the guests.

After their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Springford will make their home at Ganges. Mrs. Springford wore for travelling a smart navy blue flat crepe frock, blue felt hat and blue and grey swagger coat.

BY-ELECTION IS FORESEEN

Councillor C. L. Pullen, of Esquimalt Plans to Go To England

COUNCILLOR C. L. PULLEN

Possibilities of a by-election in Esquimalt loomed when Councillor Clarence L. Pullen, representative of the Esquimalt Ratepayers' Association on the Municipal Council, told a meeting of ratepayers in St. Paul's Parish Hall on Wednesday night that he was winding up his affairs in Esquimalt preparatory to leaving for England about May 1 to take up his permanent residence at Nuneaton, near Birmingham.

Mr. Pullen was elected to the council at the recent Esquimalt municipal election.

He explained to the meeting that at the time of his election he did not know he would have to go to England. In mid-February, Mr. Pullen said, he was advised of the need to go and it came to him as a "complete surprise."

ELECT OFFICERS

Mr. Pullen, who has filled the chair since the resignation of the president, Bishop G. E. Lloyd, made the foregoing announcement as the association prepared to elect officers for 1936.

Frank H. Rees, who served the organization as secretary and was an unsuccessful candidate for councilmanic honors recently, was named president, with Mrs. W. F. Harrison as vice-president.

Nevile Smith was chosen secretary-treasurer.

Those elected to the executive were E. H. Sweeney, T. E. Glass, R. A. Dunn, John Wright, Mrs. H. Walker and Mrs. Ellen Mitchell.

CONFIDENCE VOTE

A vote of confidence in Charles Haithwaite and G. H. Kinch, representatives of the association on the Esquimalt Police Commission, was passed by the meeting after Mr. Haithwaite had explained his actions at a recent commission meeting, and referred to criticism he had heard about the stand he had taken.

Councillors E. G. Eaton and T. Harry Hodgson were thanked for having the indemnities of the Esquimalt councillors reduced.

CATTLE OWNER FOUND GUILTY

George Brassard Failed to Provide Proper Food and Shelter—Sentence Reserved

Charged with failing to provide food and shelter for his cattle, George Brassard, Finnerty Road, was found guilty by Magistrate George Jay in Saanich Police Court, yesterday. Sentence was reserved until next Thursday to enable Brassard to sell or dispose of the animals.

Inspector George Allen, of the S.P.C.A., told the court he had visited the Brassard premises on several occasions and found the barn "filthy" and in a dilapidated condition. He stated he had suggested to Mr. Brassard to get rid of some of his stock, for which he was unable to provide proper feed. Inspector Allen said he saw little or no grass on the two-acre premises to provide fodder for Brassard's seven heifers, two calves, one bull and one goat.

POOR CONDITION

Dr. J. H. Keown, veterinary surgeon, testified he visited the premises on March 15 and found the animals in poor coondition, caused, he said, from lack of feed. He saw one dead heifer, whose death he attributed to starvation. The doctor asserted the majority of the cattle were of no value and would recommend that they be destroyed.

Brassard claimed the animals were not in as bad a condition as witnesses asserted. Although admitting he was unemployed and had asked help of the S.P.C.A. in securing feed for the cattle, which are only now beginning to produce milk, Brassard declared he could bring them through without harm until they could be turned loose to feed on the Spring grass. He also intimated he could sell one or two to raise money for hay and bran.

"Daddy," said Bobby, "don't they ever give any showers for the groom?"

"No, son," replied his dad, "there will be plenty of storms for him after the bride begins to reign."

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

GAUGING THE POSSIBILITIES

An exact estimate of one's resources is vital to the proper planning of any kind of campaign, whether financial, military, or merely the bidding of a hand at contract. Without such an estimate it is impossible to apply the nice admixture of courage and caution that are the ingredients of success.

The average bridge player's vacillation between recklessness and over-conservatism can be traced to one major fault, failure to take into consideration all the possibilities of a given situation. This fault is particularly glaring in the bidding of "freak hands."

A DEFENSIVE CUE-BID

Almost all bids should be conventional, either in implication or in evaluation of the hand. Unusual situations, however, demand drastic measures.

SOUTH

The bidding:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 ♠ | 1 ♥ | 2 ♠ | 3 ♥ |
| 3 ♠ | 4 ♣ | 4 ♠ | Pass |
| Pass | 5 ♥ | 5 ♠ (final bid) | |

East's bidding was worthy of comment and study as an example of shrewd foresight.

He did not have a strong enough hand to cue-bid clubs directly over North's opening bid. Such a cue-bid would be interpreted by his partner in the conventional manner, to indicate a huge hand. His one heart, vulnerable overcall was quite proper at this point.

But by the time the bidding had come around to him on the second round a definite situation had developed. South, by his jump free bid, had shown not merely game, but slam aspirations. West had raised the hearts in the face of this danger. Obviously he had tried to indicate that a "save" might be profitable. North had furthered the slam probability by his free raise. With an inferior suit (from at least the denominational point of view) East could not hope merely to outbid the spades, therefore a more subtle defensive measure was demanded. Hence his four club bid, which carried a clear lead-directing message.

South was given a tough problem by this bid. If it were honest and East really would ruff an opening club lead, the enticing slam contract almost surely would fail, as a heart trick probably must be lost also. But he was by no means sure that East was not throwing dust in his eyes by warning of a purely imaginary danger. Incidentally, it might be well to point out that a clever player in the East position might try just such a subterfuge to scare off a slam bid against which he had no defence.

South could not decide whether the cue-bid was honest or not, and for that reason swung to the conservatism by bidding only a game. But now that he had definitely set up a defence, East went ahead with his sacrifice plan, feeling sure that five hearts could not be severely punished. He was correct. It could have been defeated only one trick. South refused to be bilked out of the game and went to five spades.

West followed hearts and opened a club. East ruffed the king. Since a trick in diamonds appeared out of the question, and two more tricks were necessary for the contract's defeat, East correctly underplayed his ace-king of hearts on the only hope that West would have the queen. When that card won the second trick, another club ruff gave the defenders their well-earned victory.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Question—Both sides were vulnerable. My partner, North, bid one diamond. East passed. I sat South and held ♠ A Q x x x, ♥ x x x x, ♦ x x, ♣ x x. I bid one spade. Partner now bid three diamonds (the opponents never made a bid). What should I do now?

Answer—Bid three spades.

Little Stories for Bedtime

Mistress Spring Wakes All the Sleepers

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Wake up, wake up, you drowsy heads!
Wake up, wake up, and leave your beds!
The gladdest time of all the year
Has come, for Mistress Spring is here!

Cheerful Robin was singing it up in the Old Orchard. Little Friend the Song Sparrow was singing it down along the edge of the Laughing Brook. Winsome Bluebird was whistling it from the top of the Big Hickory over by the Smiling Pool. Blacky the Crow was cawing it from a fence-post on the edge of Farmer Brown's cornfield. Danny Meadow Mouse was shouting it in a funny little squeaky voice down on the Green Meadows. Even Sammy Jay was screaming it through the Green Forest. And over in the dear Old Briar Patch Peter Rabbit was saying it over and over to himself as he thumped and thumped for pure joy.

It was true. Sweet, beautiful Mistress Spring had arrived. Cheerful Robin and Little Friend had come with her, and so had Honker the Wild Goose. It was his voice coming down from high, high up in the blue, blue sky that had told the glad news. He hasn't a sweet voice.

Blacky the Crow was cawing it from a fence-post on the edge of Farmer Brown's cornfield

Oh, my, no! The voice of Honker is anything but sweet. And yet it is good, wonderfully good, to hear after the long, cold days of Winter, for everyone knows when they hear it that Mistress Spring has arrived. You see, long, long ago Mistress Spring went to Old Mother Nature and asked her for a trumpeter someone whose voice was strong, to travel up from the far-away South with her and tell all the world of her coming, and Honker the Goose was chosen because his wings are strong and he flies high, and because his voice is strong and the sound of it carries far. And from that day to this, when the voice of Honker the Goose is heard everyone knows that Mistress Spring has arrived.

Now, Mistress Spring wastes no time, for she has a great deal to do, and the very first thing is to waken all the sleepers whom gentle Sister South Wind has not already wakened. Peter Rabbit never could understand how she does it because there are so many sleepers—little people who wear fur, little people who wear neither fur nor feathers, but whom we call bugs, and all the little and big plants. There are so many, many of them who sleep all Winter long that it has always seemed to Peter as if Mistress Spring must miss some of them. But she never does.

So now that Mistress Spring had arrived Peter was too happy to sit still. He just had to hurry around and greet his friends as fast as they waked. Bobby Coon and Uncle Billy Possum had crawled out of their hollow trees just after Winsome Bluebird arrived. Now Peter felt sure his old friend Johnny Chuck would be crawling out, and he hurried up to the corner of the Old Orchard where Johnny's house is. Sure enough, there sat Johnny Chuck on his doorstep taking a sun bath. He looked very thin, not at all as he had looked when Peter last saw him. He grinned at Peter and stretched to get the kinks out of his legs, and the first thing he asked was if Peter knew where there was any tender young clover. But Peter didn't because you know the clover had only just begun to wake up, and hadn't had time to grow. But he knew where there was some last year's clover that had kept green under the snow, and Johnny said that that would do, because he was so hungry that he could eat almost anything.

While they were talking, a merry little voice shouted from the stone wall. There sat Striped Chipmunk, and he looked as pert and smart and saucy as ever. He wasn't thin like Johnny Chuck. You see, he had filled his storehouse, which opens right out of his bedroom, with plenty of good things in the Fall, and he had waked up in the Winter often enough to eat what he needed and now had plenty left over.

"Are you glad Mistress Spring has come?" asked Peter.

Striped Chipmunk whisked round and round after his tail until they all laughed to see him. "So glad that I can't keep still," he cried.

Next story: "Voices From the Smiling Pool."

MAKE YOUR OPPORTUNITY

What with more employment about, more trade, and more money to spend, now's the time to make the most of opportunities—for as Shakespeare wrote, "There is a tide in the affairs of men, which taken at the flood, leads on to fortune."

Obviously this is a time to make the opportunity, not wait for it, and if some have the desire, and lack the urge to do so, then their stock of nerve force is disastrously low, and should immediately be raised to the necessary working power level with Phosferine.

As always, the race is to the strong, and the energizing vitality of Phosferine insures that one easily holds one's own in competition with others.

The origin of most failures, disabilities, and inferiorities is deficiency of nerve force, which a short course of Phosferine soon replaces with the stamina to make your opportunity! (Advt.)

DRAWN GAME GIVES BOSTON PLAY-OFF POSITION

Semi-Finals of English Cup Competition Will Hold Spotlight Tomorrow

Arsenal to Face Grimsby Town in Feature Fixture

Strong First Division Elevens to Clash at Huddersfield While Fulham and Sheffield United Meet In Other Half of Bracket—Scottish Leaders Expected to Triumph

LONDON, March 19 (CP).—Eyes of the English soccer world will be focussed Saturday on Huddersfield and Wolverhampton, two midland strongholds of the sport, where semi-final cup games will be played.

At Huddersfield, Arsenal and Grimsby Town, giants of the First Division, will meet and in the latter city two second leaguers, Fulham and Sheffield United, battle for the right to play in the finals at Wembley.

The opposing teams are well matched and each possesses a definite chance of winning although the thousands of supporters of the colorful Gunners believe their favorites will bring about the elimination of Grimsby.

Foiled in their first quest for a fourth consecutive league championship Arsenal has thrown all its resources into the cup competition. The Londoners have an advantage of five points over Grimsby in the league table and are confident of victory.

Grimsby will be forced to take the field without Betmead, star centre half, who is under suspension. The teams have already met twice this season in league play. At home, Grimsby defeated the Gunners, 1-0, at the beginning of the season, but Arsenal were successful, 6-0, in the return match.

GOING AFTER VICTORY

Sheffield United will go all out to defeat Fulham. The Northerners have a fine opportunity to capture the cup and also to win promotion to the First League. Undefeated since mid-December, the United has a good cup record but in Fulham it will meet one of the strongest defensive teams in the league.

The league programme will provide many interesting matches although Sunderland has a comfortable margin at the top of the First Division. The race is so close in all divisions that a couple of successive wins is liable to take some of the lower-placed clubs half way up the league ladder while a similar number of defeats makes relegation possible.

Brentford is likely to record a win against Chelsea in one of the feature matches of First Division play, while Blackburn Rovers, holders of last place may create a surprise by upsetting Middlesbrough.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE

GLASGOW, March 19 (CP).—Dropping only two points in their last ten games, Glasgow Rangers, overwhelming favorites to capture the Scottish Football Cup are treading on Celtic's heels for league supremacy.

Tied with Aberdeen with fifty points for the runner-up position, the famous Ibrox Park team measured off Hibernians to the tune of 3-0 during the week and gained sole possession of the second rung, two points behind Celtic.

The three leaders are expected to turn in wins in Saturday's tilts, but last year's champions have played one game less than the Celts and indications point to a first position deadlock when the clubs are even in games.

Celtic travels to Dens Park to take on Dundee, Rangers play at Hampden Park against the Simonpure Queen's Park outfit and Queen of South will entertain Aberdeen.

Four teams, Hibernians, Clyde, Airdrieonians, and Ayr United faced with the prospect of playing in minor company next year, are trying hard to climb out of relegation danger.

The Second Division has been more or less a runaway for Falkirk and Saint Mirren, and it is almost a certainty these two will climb back into the First Division after this season. Both play at home Saturday, Falkirk against East Fife and the Saints are visited by Brechin City.

GORGE MEETS MACAULAY IN GOLF FIXTURE

Inter-Club Match Set Sunday at Respective Courses —Teams Chosen

Gorge Vale and Macaulay Point Golf Clubs will meet in an inter-club match Sunday, the first between the respective teams this year. The "A" squads will clash at the Esquimalt course and the second-stringers will meet at Gorge Vale. Both courses are reported in fine condition and therefore some good golf is expected from the competitors.

"A" TEAMS

"A" teams, with the Gorge Vale players first mentioned, follow:

9:00—H. H. Allen and W. Newcombe vs. N. Wallace and Eric Wright.

9:05—D. R. Cox and D. R. Hurdle vs. H. A. Lineham and Filmer Morgan.

Warneke's Arm Ready for Opener

WHEN Lonnie Warneke was taken out of a crucial world series game last year, after he had strained his pitching arm, some anxiety for his future was felt around the Chicago Cubs camp. The Cubs' hurling ace, however, says his flipper is as good as ever and, with some of his mates looking on, gives a demonstration at the training camp on Catalina Island. The three watchers are also pitchers. Left to right they are: Charlie Root, Roy Henshaw and Bill Lee. That's Lonnie firing the pill.

BRUINS DEFINITELY GAIN THIRD BERTH BY TIE WITH LEAFS

Frank Patrick's Squad Plays Toronto to Deadlock to Beat Out New York Rangers—Detroit Red Wings Whip Chicago to Win American Section Title—Americans Triumph

TORONTO, March 19 (CP).—Boston Bruins won third position in the National Hockey League's American section here tonight by tying Toronto Maple Leafs, 2-2, in a game that had all the thrills of a play-off. The point left Leafs a slender chance at the Canadian division leadership, enabling them to win if they defeat New York Americans, Saturday, and Chicago beats Montreal Maroons. Boston took a lead in the second period through Cooney Weiland's goal on a pass from Red Beattie. Bruins held the advantage only six minutes before Harvey Jackson scored in a ganging attack, while Peggy O'Neil and Babe Siebert were serving penalties, both for tripping Pep Kelly.

COONEY WEILAND

Charlie Conacher gave Toronto a lead in the third minute of the third period on a typical Toronto gang play. Less than four minutes later Paul Runge took a pass from Dit Clapper and again tied the score.

Modere Bruneteau put the Detroiters ahead late in the first period, and Larry Aurie and Johnny Sorrell ran the advantage to three goals early in the second.

The Hawks fought back with a furious drive, and came within one goal of tying it up as Art Wiebe and Doc Romnes counted on solo dashes.

AMERKS BEAT CANADIENS

NEW YORK, March 19 (CP).—New York Americans put on a scoring splurge in the second period of tonight's National Hockey League game here and defeated Montreal Canadiens, 4-1, before 4,000, the smallest crowd of the season.

Little importance was attached to the game as Americans had already beaten out Canadiens for third place in the Canadian group and a niche in the Stanley Cup play-offs.

After a scoreless opening period Americans forged to the front in the second period, when Lorne Carr scored a brace of counters and veteran Hal Cotton added another before Joffre Desilets scored Canadiens only goal before the end of the period.

The only tally of the third session went to Sweeney Schriner, Americans' league-leading scorer, when he broke away from a Montreal power play and easily beat Wilf Cude, Canadien net minder, who was the outstanding star of the match.

Officials: Rodden and McCurry.

First Period—No score. Penalties: Drouin, Jerwa.

Second Period — 1, Americans, Carr (Schriner, Chapman), :33; 2, Americans, Carr (Chapman, Schriner), 10:42; 3, Americans, Cotton (Oliver, Jerwa), 18:13; 4, Canadiens, Desilets (Drouin, McGill), 18:52. Penalties: Jerwa, Lesieur, Haynes, Anderson, Doran.

GOLF COURSE SET

TORONTO, March 19 (CP). — The Canadian open golf championship will be contested this year over the St. Andrew's course in Toronto, the Royal Canadian Golf Association announced today. Dates were not set.

Scorers Bunched In International

WINDSOR, Ont., March 19 (CP).—The pee-wee of professional hockey, Ken Doraty, today was among the favorites to cop scoring honors in the International Hockey League. The former Reginan, who would still be in the majors if he was huckler, boasts two more goals than any other player in the loop and trails the leading point-getters by a single point.

In front of the mighty-mite were Jack Markle, of Syracuse; Bud Cook, of Cleveland, and Frank Daley, of Cleveland, each with forty-five points. Doraty, also with Cleveland, had forty-four, composed of twenty-seven goals and seventeen assists.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT . . . . . By Ripley

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Most Contemptible Traitor—Dr. Edward Bancroft (1744-1821) of Westfield, Mass., educated as a physician in England, was the meanest traitor in all American history. He insinuated himself into Benjamin Franklin's confidence and was by the latter installed in a confidential capacity with Silas Deane, American Commissioner in France. While ostensibly serving as a spy in England for Deane, he was at the same time betraying all the American secrets to the British Intelligence Service, for which he received from $2,000 to $10,000 a year from the enemy of his country. He kept Great Britain informed of every shipment of arms, supplies and troops to his native country. His activities endangered the American cause and materially prolonged the Revolutionary War. The French Government complained that everything it did was known to the British Ambassador. The double spy then did not hesitate to accuse others of the machinations of which he alone was guilty.

B.C. Swim Titles To Be at Stake at Crystal Garden

THE cream of British Columbia's aquatic talent will seek provincial titles tomorrow evening at the Crystal Garden pool, according to announcement made yesterday by Frank Hyslop, president of the Vancouver Island Swimming League, sponsor of the championship swimming gala. Seventeen of the twenty-one events on the programme are for provincial honors. Final details in connection with the installation of the public address system were completed yesterday. With Norval Peterson at the microphone, complete results of the many events will be given at the conclusion of each race. The gala will commence at 8 o'clock, and, judging by the advance sale of ducats, one of the largest crowds of the season will be on hand to witness the many competitors in action.

NEW GRAPPLER WILL SHOW IN SEMI-WINDUP

"Black Secret" Booked for Tomorrow's Card at the Tillicum Gymnasium

His identity known only to the promoters, the "Black Secret," something new to Victoria mat fans, will be presented tomorrow evening at the Tillicum gymnasium, in the semi-windup of the weekly grunt and groan programme.

The masked wrestler was booked yesterday for the five eight-minute-round match with Mayes McLain, good-looking young Cherokee Indian, and one of the most popular heavyweights to show on local cards.

Tiger Daula, giant East Indian pachyderm, and Jack Forsgren, former Vancouver fireman and claimant of the Canadian mat title, will match holds in the eight ten-minute-round top bout.

Two local boys will open the show when they clash in the special event at 8:45 o'clock.

Daula has been here quite a number of times and has attracted a large following of Victoria's mat fans. His return appearance against the rugged Jack Forsgren should draw another good crowd to the local palace de squirm.

Mayes McLain, former All-America gridder, is a good-looking young wrestler who is rapidly forging to the front in the heavyweight division. His best offensive is his famous flying tackle, and when he hits the "big boys" they usually drop.

COLLEGE CAGERS SUFFER SETBACK

VANCOUVER, March 19 (CP).—In a closely contested match St. Mark's, of Vancouver, tonight defeated St. Louis College, of Victoria, 26-22, in the sudden-death final of the Coast intermediate "B" boys' championship.

The victors will play-off with Penticton for the British Columbia championship.

The St. Louis College boys started off the scoring to set a fast pace, when Kelly looped the first basket. St. Mark's put up a stroong defence, holding the visitors to long shots.

St. Mark's soon evened up the score and from then on held the lead with a slim margin. At the end of the first half St. Mark's led, 13-9.

After resumption the College boys started off the scoring again to take the first two points on fouls, but the speedy Vancouver squad kept the score swaying in see-saw fashion.

In the last few minutes the Victoria team put on a splurge that almost evened the score.

G. Siburne led the Vancouver team with five points and B. Martin topped the St. Louis College squad with ten points.

St. Mark's—N. Gloag (4), J. Naples (4), A. Muir (4), G. Siburne (5), G. Martin (3), B. Gicas (2), I. McDougald (4), F. Pue, R. Hawes. Total 26.

OXFORD OARSMEN GO OVER COURSE

LONDON, March 19 (CP).—The Oxford eight preparing to meet Cambridge April 4 in the annual inter-varsity boat race rowed the full four-and-a-quarter-mile course on the Thames today from Putney to Mortlake in 21:4.

The time was slow, although conditions were good. The dark blues, rowing with the tide, kept up a steady paddle throughout, rarely raising the rate of stroking above thirty a minute.

Cambridge showed good form. After two stretches of brisk paddling at twenty-four, W. G. R. M. Laurie quickened the stroke gradually to shoot under Putney bridge against a strong headwind at thirty-six.

Pantorium and Vancouver Province Cagers Play Here Tonight

The second game will be played on the same floor tomorrow evening. West Saanich Mercantiles and Lake Hill, men's senior "B" hoopsters, will clash in tonight's preliminary, scheduled to commence at 8 o'clock, and the championship tussle will start one hour later. Tomorrow evening the Vancouver Province intermediate "A" girls' squad, Provincial champions, will play an exhibition with the Victoria cagers in the preliminary fixture, and the Pantorium and Vancouver Province senior "A" cagers will continue their two-game series for the British Columbia crown. The Mainlanders will be defending the honors they annexed last season after an interesting series with the Victoria Pantorium quintette.

Louis and Max Schmeling Will Fight This June

NEW YORK, March 19 (AP).—Joe Louis and Max Schmeling will fight their fifteen-round heavyweight bout here in June, probably in the Yankee Stadium, and almost certainly before the second $1,000,000 "house" since the depression knocked the props from under the boxing industry.

Promoter Mike Jacobs today ended speculation over the possibility of staging the bout either in Cleveland or Philadelphia, where the 1936 Republican and Democratic National Conventions, respectively, will be held.

Although the site and date of the fight will not be announced for several days, it probably will be held the third or fourth week in June. The Yankees will be on the road from June 16 to 29.

OAKLANDS SCORES ONE-SIDED WIN

Oaklands continued their bid for the Curtis Cup Rugby honors by blanking Sir James Douglas School yesterday afternoon by a 26-0 score. Boys' Central and North Ward batted to a scoreless deadlock in the other scheduled fixture.

This afternoon, Oaklands School has a good chance to win the Scott-Moncrieff Shield when they tackle North Ward at the High School ground at 4 o'clock. Benny McMillen will be the referee. A win or draw for Oaklands will give them possession of the shield. Sir James Douglas and South Park will clash in the same series at Heywood Avenue ground, with Ronnie McConnan in charge.

BOSTON BEES EXPECTING TO GAIN GROUND

Bill McKechnie Hoping to Get Squad Out of Cellar This Season

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 19 (AP).—Bill McKechnie and his busy Boston Bees are so confident of moving up in the baseball world this year that they've destroyed their National League basement lease in advance. "We're not going to finish last in 1936," promised the iron-grey-haired keeper of the Bees. This year youth is getting its chance under the construction plans of shrewd Bob Quinn, back at the helm as president. Even the traditional name of the "Braves" has been discarded for that of the "Bees." It's a complete new deal. Spirit is running high.

Bill McKechnie

There seems to be no question but that the 1936 team will be far better balanced.

Pitchers Dutch Brandt and Fred Frankhouse had to be sacrificed in off-season deals to gain strength at other points, but McKechnie predicts he will have a capable hurling staff. Ray Benge, Ben Cantwell and Johnny Babich are rated as his mainstays, along with possibly Bob Smith. The rest are youngsters.

NEW MOUNDSMEN

Hobart Scott, Johnny Lanning and Ken Chitwood, all obtained from Knoxville; Jim Chaplin and Sharkey Elland, who won forty-five and lost twenty-six between them last year for Nashville. All seem certain of jobs.

The infield looks well set with Tony Cuccinello, obtained from Brooklyn, at second; Bill Urbanski at shortstop, Art Whitney at third and possibly Baxter Jordan at first. Elburt Fletcher and young Ed Moriarty, a great hitter who needs fielding development, may give Jordan a run for his post. McKechnie should have enough good infield reserves with Joe Coscarart and Howard Meyers.

The outfield rates as a .300 hitting trio, with Rupert Thompson in right, Hal Lee in left and the heavy-hitting Wally Berger in centre.

Catching, one of the big weaknesses last season, will be ably cared for by Al Lopez, obtained from Brooklyn.

Victoria Athletic Club Will Meet Next Thursday

WITH organization plans well advanced, officials of the Victoria Athletic Club yesterday evening announced that a general meeting will be held in the Elks Club, Douglas Street, Thursday, March 26, at 8 o'clock. Only members who already have signed the membership applications will be permitted to attend the parley.

The executive met yesterday evening at The Times Building, and drew up the by-laws which will be submitted for ratification at Thursday's meeting.

The membership roll is growing rapidly, and those interested in joining the new club may secure any information they need by applying at the temporary headquarters, Wachter's Newsstand, Douglas Street.

Dizzy Dean Will Sign Today With St. Louis Cards

BRADENTON, Fla., March 19 (AP).—The St. Louis Cardinal management greeted Jerome H. Dean, ace pitcher, like a long-lost son today and "Ole Diz" was visibly touched—to the extent of signing a pledge of loyalty and obedience.

Such mundane matters as salary terms—Dizzy wants $40,000 a year and the Cardinals have offered $18,500—obviously were out of place at the fellowship gathering at a hotel here, and Vice-President Branch Rickey delicately suggested a discussion of terms be put off until tomorrow.

Ross Will Play Wing Berth for Rowing Club XV

VANCOUVER, March 19 (CP).—"Schoolboy" Joe Ross, who has starred at both Canadian Rugby with Meralomas and senior basketball with the Adanacs, of New Westminster, will be out on the field for Vancouver Rowing Club, Saturday, when they meet Victoria for the Rounsfell Cup, it was revealed today. He will be on the three-quarter line, probably playing wing.

Mobraaten Back Home

VANCOUVER, March 19 (CP).—Tom Mobraaten, Vancouver skier and member of Canada's Olympic ski team, arrived back from the Winter games at Garmish-Partenkirchen, Germany, today. He was greeted by a group of enthusiastic local skiers as he stepped from the train.

Mexico Grappler Gains Decision in Portland Ring —Lewis Beaten

PORTLAND, Ore., March 19 (AP).—Vincent Lopez, 220, Mexico City, won the main event of last night's wrestling match through the one-fall route over "Wee Willie" Davis, 265, Blacksburg, Va., in twenty minutes.

Jack Kennedy, 215, Dallas, went to a three-round draw with "Black Secret," 225, Boston.

In the feature special, Sandor Szabo, 215, Hungary, took three falls from Ed "Strangler" Lewis, 215, Glendale, Calif. Szabo took the first in 14:54, lost the second in 6:30, was awarded the third in 1:37 and went on to win an unscheduled fourth when Lewis objected to the referee giving Szabo the third fall. Lewis was declared disqualified in the third for using a strangle hold.

Rudy Stronberg, 215, Germany, won a fall from Reb Russell, 215, Evanston, Ill., in the third round.

C.G.I.T. NOTES

GIRLS' COUNCIL

The meeting of the Victoria Girls' Council held recently in the drawing-room of the Y.W.C.A. was characterized by the pre-Easter message, given in song and story, and illustrated by colored slides taken from the life of Christ. The narrative was given by Miss Minnie Beveridge, sponsor of the Girls' Council, and the beautiful solo, "Into the Woods My Master Went," was sung by Miss Dolly Crowther, and Miss Barbara Dawson very fittingly closed the service with "I Know My Redeemer Liveth." Preceding the main part of the meeting, a short recreation period was conducted in the gymnasium by Miss Margaret Fleming, after which a lively sing-song was led by Miss Dawson. Miss Margaret McKinnon, president of the council, presided over the business session. A social half-hour was held at the close of the evening and refreshments were served from a prettily-decorated table. Tea was poured by Mrs. Cushing, general secretary of the Y.W.C.A., and Miss Lilian Parfitt, chairman of the Girls' Leaders' Council. The evening was brought to a close by the singing of "Taps."

King Edward VIII Seen in Current Edition of News

THE first official public appearance of King Edward VIII is featured in The Colonist-Universal Newsreel, now showing at the Dominion Theatre. Other interesting items of news include scenes of flood and desolation from the East, when ice jams forced rivers far above the flood level and raging waters inundated farms and streets alike; "Mat-Maids" in Stuart, Florida, showing the fair sex in action in wrestling bouts which might well put many men to shame, and again from London come shots of the famous baby chimpanzee, on the occasion of its first birthday.

NEW TEAM STARS IN BRIGHT FILM

George Raft and Rosalind Russell Appearing in Dominion in "It Had to Happen"

A new star team of irresistible lovers top the film horizon as George Raft and Rosalind Russell step out arm-in-arm together in the grand new 20th Century comedy romance, "It Had to Happen," coming today to the Dominion Theatre.

With Raft playing the part of an irresistible lover, and Miss Russell a lady who thought she was too ritzy for romance, "It Had to Happen" is a pulse-pounding romance of two people who found the world well lost for love.

In its unconventional style, this picture, adapted from the Rupert Hughes story, throws the stars together as they are nearing New York on a ship. Miss Russell is a slick and lovely heiress to many millions, and Raft is a poor immigrant lad coming to the land of promise with his friend, Leo Carrillo, just about as far apart as any two people can be.

Roy Del Ruth, who brought the picture, "Thanks a Million," to the screen, directed the production of "It Had to Happen," under the personal supervision of Darryl F. Zanuck. Prominent in the supporting cast of this romantic comedy are Arline Judge, Andrew Tombes and Arthur Hohl.

CAPITOL THEATRE "Modern Times," Charlie Chaplin's latest comedy production, will be shown at the Capitol Theatre for the last times today. This is the first film to be turned out by Chaplin in five years, and is said to be one of his best. As before, the entire film is silent with the exception of Charlie Chaplin's famous singing scene, which critics claim to be a classic.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Capitol—Charlie Chaplin in "Modern Times."

Columbia — "Cheers of the Crowd," starring Russell Hopton.

Dominion—George Raft in "It Had to Happen."

Playhouse — "She Couldn't Take It," starring George Raft.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Some fans may have speculated as to whence came the rank of "Colonel" that Tim McCoy, star of Columbia's "Riding Wild," now showing at the Columbia Theatre, wears before his name. He won it serving with the United States in the World War. In "Riding Wild," McCoy is supported by Billie Seward, Niles Welch, Richard Alexander and others. David Selman directed.

RUSSIAN BARITONE TO SING IN OPERA HERE

The voice of Stefan Kozakevich, the twenty-eight-year-old Russian baritone with the San Carlo Opera Company, is said to be exceptional. Born in Russia, Kozakevich came to this country when a youth, his family settling in Detroit, where he began musical studies. Friends became interested in the young singer and supplied the funds for the advancement of his studies.

Kozakevich has sung with the Russian Opera Company, with leading symphony orchestras in the East. He joined the San Carlo forces in 1932. Already he has an extensive repertoire of Italian, German and French operas. He is one of the most popular members of the company, and the reviewers predict great things for this talented young singer.

Aorangi Will Dock This Morning From Ports "Down Under"

Liner Arriving Early—Empress of Russia Will Sail for Far East Side Tomorrow—Japanese Ship Due in Sunday

Coming in from Sydney via the ports of Auckland, Suva and Honolulu, the Canadian-Australasian Ms. Aorangi, Captain T. V. Hill, commander, was due to reach William Head at an early hour this morning, according to wireless advices received at the local offices of Canadian Pacific Steamships yesterday.

The Aorangi was to remain anchored at quarantine for several hours, and expected to arrive alongside Rithet Piers at 5:30 o'clock this morning. The big green liner has passengers, mails and cargo for Victoria and will probably be here until 9 o'clock, proceeding to Vancouver after completing business here.

An unusually fast passage has been made outward by the Swedish bark C. B. Pedersen, states The P. L. A. Monthly. The Pedersen made the trip from Gothenburg to Port Germein Roads in seventy-seven days.

Sailing for the Philippine Islands by way of Japan and China ports, the Canadian Pacific Ss. Empress of Russia, Captain W. T. Kinley, commander, will be here for a short time tomorrow afternoon. The Russia is due to arrive at Rithet Piers at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and scheduled to clear at 5:30 o'clock for Yokohama, her first port of call on the other side of the Pacific.

JAPANESE SHIP

Arriving from Japan ports, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha Ms. Heian Maru is due at William Head some time Sunday night, according to Harry Douglas, agent of the steamship line in Victoria. The Heian Maru has ninety-two passengers in all classes aboard and 1,700 tons of freight for Canadian discharge.

The annual report of the Chamber of Shipping of the United Kingdom shows that the Soviet Union has increased its merchant fleet from 301,000 tons to 1,350,000 tons in the past eight years.

Great Britain's merchant tonnage has fallen from 40 per cent of the world total in 1913 to 31.61 per cent as of June, 1935, the report states.

In June, 1935, the British merchant fleet totaled 9,832 ships with aggregate tonnage of 20,510,921, while in June, 1913, it numbered 11,287, totaling 20,431,543 tons.

TRAFFIC SLUMPED

World maritime traffic last year slumped markedly below 1934 levels, the central committee of French shipbuilders meeting in Paris recently announced.

Although United States shipping registered increased activity, with British shipping equalling its own record for the previous year, the French merchant marine suffered important losses and general international traffic through the Suez and Panama Canals dropped heavily, it was declared.

"The decline in 1935 world shipping is all the more remarkable because the 1934 upward movement seemed to be the start of permanent recovery," the report states. "Port traffic diminished by 500,000 tons.

MAY BUILD BIG LINER

New Draft of U.S. Ship Subsidy Bill Contains Provision for Funds

WASHINGTON, March 19 (C.P.)—A tentative move toward the construction of an American "super liner," possibly as a competitor to the gigantic French vessel Normandie and the British Queen Mary, was disclosed here today.

A Senate sub-committee has written into a new draft of a ship subsidy bill a provision authorizing the expenditure of Government funds for such a craft.

The new draft, intended to aid the merchant marine with direct subsidies for construction and operation of ships, instead of the present mail contracts, has not yet been approved by the full commerce committee.

TRUST FUND FOR HARBORS

New Board Clothed With Wide Powers—Seven Ports Named

OTTAWA, March 19 (C.P.)—Statutory confirmation of the central harbors board set up last Fall to replace the commission control of the seven leading Canadian ports is provided in a bill presented to the House of Commons tonight by Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Marine.

A body to be known as "The National Harbors Board," clothed with wide powers and financed by the Dominion Government, is contemplated in the measure. The board will control at once the harbors of Halifax, Saint John, Chicoutimi, Quebec, Three Rivers, Montreal and Vancouver. Other harbors may come under its jurisdiction later.

Harbor commissions have borrowed heavily from the Dominion treasury and under the new legislation these debts will be cancelled through acceptance by the Finance Minister of certificates of indebtedness bearing interest at such rate as may be fixed by the Governor-in-Council.

A central trust fund will be set up and placed at the disposal of the board with separate accounts for each harbor.

GIVE FULL TIME

There will be a chairman and two members and two will constitute a quorum. The members will give their full time to the work and will, in the first instance, be appointed for ten, nine and eight years. They will automatically retire at the age of seventy.

Construction work carried on by the board will be by public tender except in such cases when it is deemed expedient or more economical to have it done by departmental employees, or when the cost is $10,000 or less.

Practically all changes contemplated in the act have already been carried out with the exception of those clauses dealing with finances.

Big Funnels of Queen Mary

The size of the funnels of the giant British liner, Queen Mary, is more easily grasped when seen in the above picture beside the workmen putting the finishing touches on the huge vessel. At the back of each funnel, near the top, are three huge ventilators, inside of which is a stairway to enable members of the crew to descend to the various floors.

Fishing Industry Had Satisfactory Year During 1935

Total Pack of Salmon Greater Than Fifteen-Year Average—Halibut Landings Slightly Down—Herring Run Big

VANCOUVER, March 19 (C.P.)—The fishing industry of British Columbia had a "reasonably satisfactory" year in 1935, from the standpoint of quantity of fish caught and prices to the fishermen, says Major J. A. Motherwell, chief Federal supervisor, in a review just issued.

But prices to processors of the raw products, for instance the salmon canners, "have not yet been restored to the condition which may be regarded as fairly profitable," the report adds.

The total pack of all varieties of salmon was 1,529,022 cases, practically equal to the 1934 pack and 300,391 cases greater than the average for the past fifteen years.

The sockeye pack of 350,444 cases was 37,994 cases more than the average for the past five years and 35,097 cases more than the fifteen-year average. Sockeye fishing was disappointing in the Naas and Skeena areas, but good in Rivers and Smiths Inlets. It was the off year for the Fraser area, but the pack of 57,212 cases compared favorably with the 54,688 cases in the brood year of 1931.

DIMINISHED CATCHES

Deferring of opening of fishing from June 20 to July 1 had to do with diminished catches on the Naas and Skeena as the farther North the runs the earlier they arrive. But both areas, and particularly the Skeena, will require close attention for some years to guard against serious depletion, Major Motherwell observes.

Generally speaking, the quantities of salmon found on the spawning grounds by inspectors are considered quite adequate. In Rivers and Smiths Inlets the supply of sockeye is considerably above average.

The department's policy of conservation, by confining fishing more and more to areas away from the mouths of streams and extending closed periods, "is apparently bringing the desired results," the report comments.

During the calendar year 1935, shipments of canned salmon from Port of Vancouver amounted to 1,191,327 cases, consigned to thirty-two different countries.

Landings of halibut at Canadian ports by both Canadian and American boats were slightly less than in 1934, amounting to 17,114,300 pounds. This was due partly to control of sailings by the marketing board, voluntary agreement among fishermen for stopovers between trips to avoid market flooding, and to a larger proportion of the American boat catch being landed at Seattle.

The demand for halibut livers for medicinal purposes increased considerably and the price to the fishermen has increased over 100 per cent in the last three years.

HERRING RUN LARGE

The herring run was unusually large on both East and West Coasts of Vancouver Island; the West Coast pilchard run was plentiful, and there was steady advance in oyster culture.

There were 841 fur seals taken by Indians along the British Columbia coast, who are permitted to spear from canoes under the pelagic sealing treaty. Raw skins brought the Indians from $1.50 to $2 each. Years ago they got from $30 to $35.

Canada's share of seals taken under treaty agreement from the Pribiloff Island herds amounted to $85,000.

The department used 112 boats and two seaplanes in its season patrol enforcing fishing regulations.

The report warns of danger that damming of the Columbia River in the United States for power purposes may kill the run of spring salmon, many of which are caught in Canadian waters on their way to the Columbia. This may seriously affect the trolling industry, especially in the Queen Charlottes and along the West Coast.

SIANTAR ASHORE ON CORAL REEF

Silver-Java-Pacific Line Ship Strikes Near Macassar — Victorians Sailed Aboard Her

VANCOUVER, March 19 (C.P.)—The Silver-Java-Pacific Line's Ms. Siantar, which left British Columbia ports early in November, is grounded on a coral reef in Groot Hartebeest, near Macassar, Celebes, according to wireless reports received here today. It is not known whether the ship's position is dangerous or whether she is badly damaged.

Mrs. Stanley Holmes and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Porter, both of Victoria, embarked on the vessel when it left that city, but it is not known whether they are still on board or had disembarked at some port to catch another ship.

BIG AMOUNT IS REQUIRED

Japanese Financiers Find Development of Manchukuo Is Costly Business

Empire-building has its troubles, as Japan is coming to know. "Declining support for South Manchuria Railway debentures in Japan proper, has lately been the subject of widespread discussion," states Asahi. "The question is not merely confined to the railway company, but is one that has particular significance for the general public, in view of the fact that the company is the parent organization for the industrial and financial development of the new state.

"The diminishing popularity for S.M.R. debentures presents two questions to be studied. One is the attitude of leading Japanese financiers and bankers toward the future of Manchukuo, and the other is their attitude toward the military establishment. Both questions are of paramount importance.

NEEDS NEW FUNDS

"The Industrial Bank of Japan, which is acting as manager bank of the financial syndicate for the railway company, has released a statement declaring that the syndicate, as well as general investors in Japan, feels uncertain over the future of the railway company and, therefore, is hesitating to commit itself to extensive investments. On the other hand, the railway needs large funds immediately in order to finance its various new enterprises, either independently or in conjunction with the Manchukuo Government.

"During the period of five years, opening with the 1937-38 fiscal year, the company intends to spend 397,000,000 yen to carry out these enterprises. The company hopes to dispose on the market 130,000,000 yen debentures during the next fiscal year and, in addition, its budget provides for a need of raising 45,000,000 yen during the remainder of the current year. All put together the company requires the huge sum of 728,000,000 yen for spending in the course of the next few years.

PARTIALLY DOOMED

Japanese financiers are taking the proposition seriously enough, but many of them are not certain over the prospects of the new enterprises announced by the S.M.R. In other words, they fear that the company's plans are partially doomed to fail.

"Manchukuo State Railways recently placed under the supervision and control of the South Manchuria Railway Company, have reported a deficit of 10,000,000 yen for the past twelve months. This sum is not small. Aside from railway expansion, the S.M.R. has announced a programme of industrial activity. Some of the industrial units being operated by the company are on a paying basis, but others are not. Quite naturally, financial uncertainty has been aroused."

FOUND MESSAGE FROM ENGINEER

Wax-Sealed Wine Bottle Washed Ashore Near South Bend

SOUTH BEND, March 19 (A.P.)—A message purporting to be from the first engineer of the steamship Iowa, wrecked on Peacock Spit in January with loss of thirty-four lives, was being investigated today by Sheriff Trezise, of Pacific County here, who at first believed it a hoax.

The first engineer was V. Clafferty, of Tacoma. The sheriff sought a specimen of Clafferty's handwriting.

PIONEER MISSIONARY CELEBRATES EIGHTY-EIGHTH BIRTHDAY

NEW WESTMINSTER, March 19 (C.P.)—Captain William Oliver, well-known pioneer missionary worker of the Pacific Coast, today celebrated his eighty-eighth birthday at his home here with his wife and son, Bob.

Captain Oliver piloted the United Church missionary boats on the Coast for more than fifty-five years before retiring. He has lived here for four years and continues to take an active interest in his former work.

He was born in Scotland and worked on the construction of the famous Cutty Sark before coming to British Columbia in 1882.

RETURNS WITH FIRST HALIBUT

Fenella, Forced Back to Port With Compass Trouble, Lands Fish

PRINCE RUPERT, March 19 (C.P.)—The honor of being the first halibuter to land a catch following the opening of the 1936 season went to the Fenella, under Captain David Ritchie, when she returned here today.

The Fenella, forced to return to port by compass trouble, landed 900 pounds of fish, which was disposed of to Bacon Fisheries at 8 cents and 7.6 cents.

Thirty-nine vessels of the local halibut fleet, with a total of 166 men on board, had left for the banks up to today.

Security Prices Move Higher at New York Mart

NEW YORK, March 19 (AP).—Clouds over the stock market lifted today and buyers stepped in with bids which raised prices of selected issues fractions to 3 or more points.

Subsiding of flood water in some of the more seriously affected districts of the East helped to stimulate recovery in the equities list. In addition, the foreign picture again appeared to be a bit brighter.

Widest gains were shown by farm implements, motors and specialties. The utilities moved a shade in either direction and the rails, while pointing slightly upward, were far from exhibiting a vigorous tone. There were also a few scattered losers of fairly substantial amounts.

Brokerage quarters, although impressed by the upturn in the industrials, were somewhat disappointed in the turnover.

Transfers totaled 2,036,730 shares as against 1,770,350 on yesterday's decline. The Associated Press average of sixty stocks advanced .5 of a point to 62.4. A number of issues more than recovered their losses of the previous week, but the stock composite was still nearly a point under its recent top.

The underlying tone remained steady in the bond market, although price changes were narrow and there was a sprinkling of losses.

Corporate issues moving slightly higher included Anaconda 4 1-2's at 103 5-8, Great Northern 4 1-2's at 102, and Studebaker 6's at 107 1-4.

Foreign bonds improving included Italian 7's, Belgium 6's and German 7's. Japanese 6 1-2's were a shade lower.

WHEAT PRICES LITTLE CHANGED

Demand From China for Low Grades Aids Market At Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, March 19 (CP).—Indications that Canadian low-grade wheat was increasing in favor in China brought higher prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Values closed unchanged to 1-4 cent higher, May at 83 7-8, July at 84 3-4 and October at 85 cents.

With Canada's No. 5 wheat priced at approximately 65 cents a bushel, Shanghai importers purchased one cargo of that grade today for shipment from Vancouver. Traders believed further sales would be made shortly.

Total exports to the United Kingdom were estimated at more than 800,000 bushels.

Firmness in outside markets also aided the Winnipeg market in holding fractional gains.

ALBERTA BOND PRICES SLUMP

Talk of Compulsory Refunding Sends Values of Provincial Issues Down

TORONTO, March 19 (CP).—Weakness in Alberta bonds has developed here following proposals considered in Edmonton for legislation to convert the province's $160,000,000 public debt at a lower interest rate. Local bond dealers reported today there are plenty of offerings but practically no bids.

Alberta's bonds are held chiefly in Canada, with small amounts in the United States and the United Kingdom.

Today's quotations on Alberta 6's of 1947 are 88 to 90, with 5's of 1948 at 85 to 87, 4½'s of 1956 at 85 to 87 and 5½'s of 1947 at 90 to 92. These are down about 4 points from a week ago.

Compared with quotations as of March, 1935, today's prices show a drop of 14 to 17 per cent. A year ago the 6's of 1947 were 106 to 107½, 5's at 100½ to 101½, 5½'s at 104 to 105 and 4½'s at 97¼ to 98¼.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

CASH

"I have often wondered, as must have others," writes a reader, "whether our word cash, as we use it in everyday business, has any connection with the Chinese cash?"

There is a peculiarly interesting etymological connection between the Chinese cash, consisting of a small, thin, circular, copper disk, with a hole punched in the centre for easy stringing and worth about one thousand-odd to the American dollar—and the specie so-called in English, which is used to characterize commercial transactions not on a credit or barter basis.

The English word cash is derived from the French caisse, meaning case, eventually corrupted to cash. The reference, however, was simply to a money box rather than to money itself, since people in early times kept their coins and other valuables in a case.

Strangely enough, as the years passed, there was a complete reversal in sense. The intrinsic significance became obsolete, the word cash, corrupted from the French caisse being used in allusion to the contents rather than the container, in the connotation of ready money.

A similar process developed in the Portuguese language, where the word caixa, derived from the Latin capsa, coffer, came to be applied to the small change of foreign nations with whom they traded, especially the Chinese. Under English influence caixa became cash.

Jane Dixon Says:

HERE IS A LETTER WHICH SHOWS HOW FUTILE IS OUR COMMAND TO LOVE

You may work for love and for the interest of another.
You may fight; bleed and all but die for others.
But you cannot command them.

Here is a letter which shows, graphically (and with what heartbreak!) how futile is our command to love.

Dear Miss Dixon: This is my problem: Indifference and lack of understanding has taken the place of love in our home, and happiness almost completely has disappeared.

By disposition I am gay and happy, but I'm beginning to feel old, old, and completely crushed. In the last few months my husband has changed. He is glum, with never a joke and very seldom a smile. Try as I will I cannot find the reason for this change.

It seems to me our home life is the same as always it has been since its institution. I try to keep cheerful and to believe that each week will bring us back to our old happy life, but this does not happen.

LIVES IN AN ICE BOX

Miss Dixon, two short years ago we were so happy. Today I am on the verge of leaving, for I cannot live in a veritable ice box, shut out from companionship, from all that goes to make life worth living.

I know my husband is well. He is not worrying about debts because we have but one debt and that is a mortgage on our home for which we are paying.

I've tried to talk with my husband, but he argues there's nothing wrong. There is something wrong, so we get nowhere.

So far as I know there is no other woman. There could be, because my husband's business requires travel and sometimes he is away for a week or longer.

HIS LOVE IS TOO MATERIAL

He says he loves me. I cannot believe in or live with a love that is so material. It's shameful, degrading.

I'm twenty-nine. Still rather good-looking. We have a darling two-year-old baby whom my husband idolizes. He is twenty-eight, and we've been married almost eight years.

Recently we bought a home in this town and we lack only $300 of owning it outright. We have a car. Other assets, too, that make for good health and good living.

I'm sure I keep our home clean and neat, and myself and the baby the same way. When my husband comes home I do not nag him, and if an argument develops he wins because I hate dissension. I have a horror of scenes because my father made our home a nightmare when we were children.

Sometimes I think I'm too much of a door-mat. That is because I simply cannot say hard, hateful things to others. I have too many hard, hateful things to remember. My husband, however, says what he pleases.

He is good to me in a disinterested way. Generous, too, if I ask him for money, which I never do except in case of absolute necessity. Once I remonstrated with him over a contemplated expenditure, and he told me plainly it was his money and he'd do as he pleased with it. Since that time I've spent as little as I could. I even worked outside my home for two years to help pay a debt of $500 he owed when we were married.

HONEST, BUT NOT GENEROUS

He is honest and well liked, pays our bills promptly, and doesn't squander his money, I'm sure, though never do I see any of it. I have no charge accounts. My husband doesn't drink nor smoke.

We are of different religious denominations, though gladly would I change to his denomination if we could take our baby to Sunday school and to church. I was brought up in this tradition.

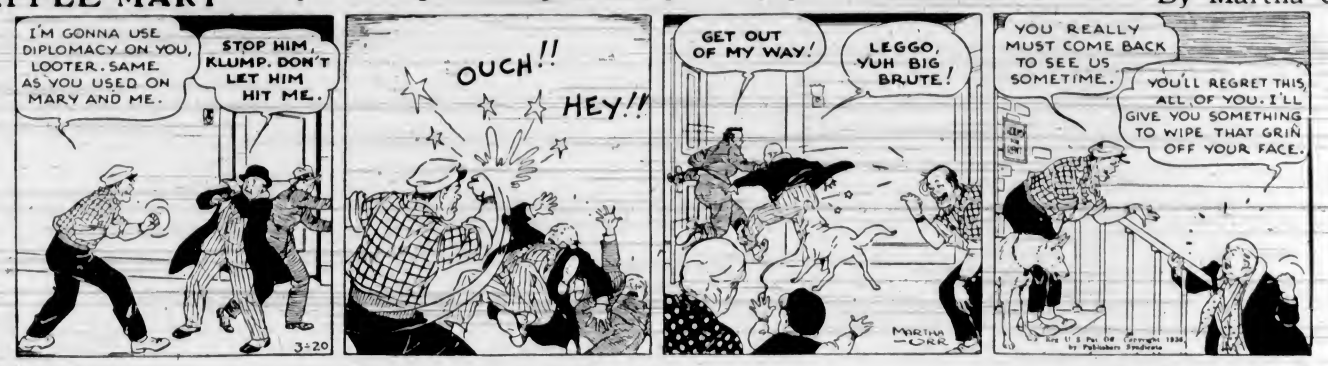

We go nowhere except to visit his relatives, and he complains that I don't like them as I should. I do like them, but I'm not a demonstrative person. Perhaps you think my husband is exhausted when he gets home from his work. I've thought that, too. He comes in, asks a casual question or two, kisses the baby and then goes to sleep with a request not to be disturbed. I carry out orders. He sleeps for a night and a day sometimes, but how about his being sociable when he wakens from his long rest?

I've worked out a tentative plan. When our home is paid for I'm going away. I can find work that will support the baby and myself. Is that a sane plan?—Disappointed Wife.

Answer: It sounds eminently sane to me. However, do not leave your home until your health and happiness depend upon a readjustment of your life, and until you have obtained a court order for custody of your child. Let's hear what some of our readers would do under these circumstances.

FOGHORN BLUES HAVE FADE OUT

Musical Sirens and Synagogue Among Features on New British Liner

GLASGOW, March 19 (AP).—A special promenade deck for dogs, a synagogue, harmonically-tuned ships bells, and an almost musical foghorn, are among the novelties claimed for the new British liner Queen Mary, making her first Atlantic crossing in a few weeks.

Dogs are to have their special area on the sports deck, and alongside the modern kennels there will be a strip of deck space reserved for such dogs as are able to keep their sea legs.

The synagogue will be a permanent part of the ship's design, not merely a room converted to that purpose on occasion. It will be about twenty feet square, and although miniature, will be complete in every detail, with room for about fifty worshippers.

Fittings will include a carved shulchan, or reading desk, and the holy ark in miniature. The Jewish hair-tomid or perpetual light of remembrance will be lit electrically on a special circuit so that it will never go out.

Three bells will take care of ship time. The largest weighs 350 pounds. The one which will be used to sound the watches will be harmonically tuned. Passengers will hear the musical tones of a perfectly adjusted church bell.

SIRENS CAREFULLY TUNED

The ten-ton sirens of the super-liner have been carefully tuned to "A." In full blast they will be heard ten miles away, but on board ship, if the designers can be believed, there will be not a trace of those fog-horn blues.

One of the electrical novelties will be the microphone adjustments of lights in the veranda grill, where the late night life of the ship will be centred. The lighting of the cafe will automatically change in keeping with the type of music being played.

Nor have all the novelties been reserved for the passengers. The member of the crew who stands watch in the crow's nest, at great height over the water, will not encourage the lament of "pity the poor sailor on a night like this."

He will ascend to his nest inside the mast, instead of climbing up a ladder outside, and his nest will be electrically heated and shielded from the elements.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Quickly Cooked Dishes for Unexpected Guests

In these days of telephones the unexpected guest is rare, but sometimes a friend may be met and brought home to a meal even if it is one of the days—they ought to be frequent in the small house—when the meal will not expand and the larder is almost bare, says an article in The Times (London) on the subject of quickly cooked dishes.

The good housekeeper, however, will have a repertory of dishes which can be quickly prepared to add to a rather insufficient fare.

A large variety of stores is to be avoided, for bottles and tins are often opened, half-used and then forgotten. And where economy is important a much higher class of cooking can be done by going without such things as olives and anchovies and using the cost so saved to provide the little extra amount of butter, cream or egg often needed to give dishes perfect texture and finish. But there are a few stores specially useful to have at hand—tins of sweet-corn, which makes excellent soup or a separate course or an adjunct to chicken or eggs; green peas, much used in French cookery; cherries or raspberries, now perfectly bottled in England. Sardines (which are nearly always liked) improve with keeping, and by serving them as a hors d'oeuvre the cook gains many valuable minutes for preparing the dishes that are to follow.

Hrere is a meal composed entirely of very quickly cooked dishes, which yet are worthy to be served to the most fastidious guest. Any of them could be used to supply a course lacking in the meal already planned.

POTAGE TAPIOCA BLANC

Cut up finely onions, turnips, carrots, and, if you have it, celery. Brown well in butter and let cook a little. Add rather more milk than the quantity of soup required, and bring to the boil stirring well, then strain. Return to saucepan, let boil again and shower in very fine tapioca, stirring till well mixed. Thicken with the yolk of one egg or more eggs, not letting them boil. A little cream is an improvement. This soup is not very white.

FILETS DE SOLE DORNAY

Put the fillets of sole on a baking tin, sprinkle thickly with fine bread-crumbs, pour about one-half ounce melted butter carefully over each fillet and cook under the grill. This will take eight minutes or more according to the size of the fillets. Serve with a little beurre meuniere round the dish. Sauce creme aux tomates is also excellent with this.

BEURRE MEUNIERE

Cook a little butter gently until it darkens slightly but is not brown, and add a little lemon juice.

SAUCE CREME AUX TOMATES

Scald one or two tomatoes, skin them and cut the fleshy part into thin strips. Season some cream with salt and pepper, whip up lightly and mix in the tomato, of which there should not be too much.

ESCALLOPES DE VEAU MINUTE

Cut some escallopes of veal as thin as possible and cook in butter, which will take about eight or ten minutes. Have a very hot dish ready, place them neatly in it, pouring a very little butter over and serve with cut lemon. If time permits, make some maitre d'hotel butter with more lemon juice than usual, form into flat pats, make cold and serve separately. Do not put any butter on the escallopes nor serve lemon as well.

TARTINES AUX FRAMBOISES

Drain most of the juice—not all—from a tin of raspberries. Add a heaped dessertspoonful of sugar and put in a saucepan on the hot part of the stove to reduce to syrup. Cut five or six rather thin slices from a white loaf, spread with some of the raspberries, slightly crushing them. Place them one on top of the other in serving dish. Do not put fruit on the top one. Trim the edges so as to make square and pour the boiling syrup over so that it soaks through. Cut the slices across each way with a sharp knife so that they look like four piles of sandwiches. Serve immediately. This is even nicer cold, with whipped cream served separately.

Rather than have dishes spoilt by hurrying them, a meal that has required additions should be served in a leisurely way, care being taken to space the pauses between the courses evenly.

SOME SUCCESS IN TREATMENTS

Cancer Cases Respond in Part to New Experimental Research, Says Dr. Hall

Some measure of success had been shown in recent treatment of cancer cases by Canadian physicians, declared Dr. George Hall in an address on "Progress in Medicine" delivered yesterday as a classification talk at the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club in the Empress Hotel.

In a thirty-minute address, Dr Hall covered a wide field of medical research and experiment, and stated that further developments were continually being reported and tested.

Although the cause of cancer remained unknown, physicians today knew a great deal about this disease, declared Dr. Hall. Degrees of virulence can be determined, thus enabling better treatment, he said. Vitamin "E" experiments with rats disclosed that cancer did not develop when subjected to tar irritation. From this, he continued, it would appear that a diet rich in this vitamin would render the rodent more resistant to the carcinogenic factor in tar. He said diet, possibly, was a factor of great importance in the production of cancer. "Ensol" treatments were meeting with some success, he said.

TRIBUTE PAID

The best means of treating cancer at present was radical removal by surgery or destruction of the growth by radium or X-ray, Dr. Hall said. Mortality rates had been lowered by surgical treatment of the thyroid gland, said the doctor. Lung treatments were also described by Dr. Hall. He paid tribute to the preventive tubercular work being carried out by the Department of Health in British Columbia.

Treatment of the sympathetic nervous system was traced by Dr. Hall. Various modern treatments of various types of heart disease were outlined by the physician.

Recent advances would indicate that health costs could not decrease, but must necessarily increase, said Dr. Hall.

MOVE TO REOPEN SCHOOLS' LIBRARY

Preliminary Efforts Made to Re-establish Dormant Saanich Institution by School Board

Preliminary steps were taken Wednesday night for the re-establishment for the dormant Saanich schools' library service by school trustees and P. C. Routley and Howard Herman, of the municipal teaching staff.

Mr. Routley and Mr. Harman appeared before the school board to explain the need of reopening the library. It was decided that books of the present library will be assembled shortly and a complete inventory taken.

A committee, representing both the teaching staff and the school board, will be formed to conduct the inventory and report to the board what books are needed to form a nucleus for a more elaborate library service.

Trustee William Tomes and Trustee Nat Gray deplored the lack of library facilities for the students of Saanich schools. Trustee Tomes was assured that any effort made by the board to secure books for the library would have the full support of the teaching staff.

It was pointed out that the Department of Education would match the school board dollar for dollar up to $50 for any contributions made to a library fund.

SAANICH DENTAL SERVICE REMAINS

Present System to Be Unchanged, School Trustees Decide—Regular Inspections Made

The Saanich School Board, Wednesday night, decided the present school dental service, under the direction of Dr. Samuel Youlden, was the best available under present circumstances, and it will remain unchanged.

Trustees had felt that certain schools were not receiving treatment regularly, and Dr. David Berman, medical health officer, and Dr. Youlden appeared before the board to explain the present system.

It was disclosed that at present Dr. Youlden visited a school and remained there until all work had been completed.

Dr. Berman told the board that each child in municipal schools was examined yearly, and any youngster needing dental treatment was advised. Children whose teeth needed urgent attention were taken at once to Dr. Youlden for treatment, it was stated.

Trustees suggested that Dr. Youlden make a cursory examination of all children yearly and treat only the necessary cases, but this was pictured as impractical.

CHAPTER XVII

Selwyn Marsh was the first to acknowledge the summons to the dining-room by getting to his feet and remarking brusquely:

"We're ready. You've already met Mr. Gordon, Miss Dahl."

"Surely," that gentleman said heartily. He stepped forward as if to offer his hand, then paused suddenly when he was aware of a questioning gaze from his hostess' dark eyes. "I dropped in here the other afternoon by way of that window," he explained to Wilma. "Miss Dahl heard me and thought I had designs on the family plate. I finally convinced her, I think, that I wasn't a burglar. I'm glad I have someone here now to vouch for me." He smiled at Thora.

"You're taking a good deal for granted," Wilma remarked. "But let's go out." She led the way to the dining-room, with Thora dropping back to the rear of the little procession.

When the group reached the table, Selwyn Marsh walked directly to his chair at the head of the board and pulled it out. But Wilma stood motionless, looking directly at Thora.

The housekeeper's blue eyes darkened suddenly and some of the color left her cheeks. Without a tremor in her quiet voice, she accepted the other girl's challenge.

"Will you sit there, Miss Marsh?" She indicated the place at Selwyn's right. "And you, Mr. Gordon, on the other side, please."

Sherman stepped quickly to Wilma's chair and seated her. Then, his mouth quirking in the amused smile that Thora remembered, he before he passed to his own place. If the little scene had any significance for Marsh, he gave no sign of it as he unfolded his napkin and watched Jane serve the soup.

Thora Dahl was favored at last by hearing lively conversation at the Marsh dinner table. And, to her great gratification, she was not called upon to contribute. There was no need of it, and her silence passed unnoticed. Wilma took the talk into her own hands, chatting animatedly with Gordon, including her father at intervals. The conversation concerned occasions, people and places that were wholly unknown to the young woman at the foot of the table.

It afforded her ample opportunity to regain her composure and she performed her duties with a quiet dignity.

Gordon was the first to take cognizance of the fact that Thora was being tacitly ignored in the conversation, and, when the dessert was served, he turned in his chair and addressed her directly:

"How do you like the Summers down in this part of the country, Miss Dahl?"

"Very much indeed."

"I imagine they are rather warmer than you are accustomed to. I know that Minnesota Winters are more rigorous than ours."

Thora admitted that they were, inwardly uncomfortable at this turn in the talk. She tried to affect a change by asking Mr. Marsh if she might ring for more coffee for him. But Gordon was not to be diverted.

He had seen something of Minnesota, had gone as far as Duluth by boat. Then to the coast by rail. The wheat country was a great sight. "It makes our farms look like garden patches," he told his host.

"What part of the state do you come from, Miss Dahl?"

She replied by giving him the name of the postoffice, but offered no further information. She was acutely conscious that Wilma was watching her. And it was Wilma who suggested leaving the table at the earliest possible moment. Gordon turned back when he reached the door.

"I say, Miss Dahl, what is all this I hear about you and Ginger? They usually pick me to take chances with my neck when he has to be put through his paces. You must be something of a horsewoman if you stayed with that boy."

"He's a very nice horse," Thora admitted, wishing that Gordon would join Wilma, who was waiting.

"There aren't many around here who agree with you. By the way, I've a nice little mare that's about right for your weight. And you don't have to watch her all the time. I'll send her over some day, if you'd like to try her out."

"Thank you very much."

"Come along, Sherm," Wilma interposed. "Don't bother Miss Dahl with your everlasting horse talk. It's all he knows," she added sweetly, addressing Thora for the first time.

The two of them went out.

Thora was still standing deep in thought when she heard steps in the hall and glanced apprehensively at the door. She hoped it was not Mr. Gordon.

"I say, Miss Dahl, I've intended to ask you before . . . Do you play bridge?"

"No . . . I don't." It was not actually true, but Thora was keenly alive to possible dangers.

"Strange. I was under the impression that you could do almost anything. Thought, maybe, we could get up a little game tonight."

"I'm sorry." Thora tried to make her smile pleasantly dismissive, and Marsh accepted the verdict without further comment.

She was glad that she had thought quickly enough to avoid what must have proved an uncomfortable evening. It was likely that she would have drawn her employer for a partner, and, harsh and outspoken as he always was, he would have been sure to criticize her none-too-skillful play. Nor did she care to submit herself to any further exhibition of Wilma's studied indifference of her presence.

This would be a good opportunity to enjoy the seclusion of her rooms. Rather than brood over the present situation, she would write a long letter to her mother. She had not reported her present address or told her about the new position. She was less sure than ever how long it might last, but her mother would want to know.

Wilma did not appear at breakfast the next morning, somewhat to Thora's relief. Selwyn Marsh, on the other hand, was unusually talkative. He had mastered the operation of the typewriter, and was resentful over the fact that he had not purchased one before. If Miss Dahl had a chance, she's better look in on him during the morning and he would show her how well he was doing. There really was very little to typing.

What Today Means

"PISCES"

If March 20 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 to 1:30 a.m., from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. and from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m., from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. and from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

If Dame Nature does not take a notion to be capricious she will do her part to help you realize that Spring is officially scheduled to start this day at 1:58 p.m. (Eastern standard time). This Spring possibly will be most generous in furnishing every variety of weather the most cantankerous mind can conceive. The wise housewife and businessman alike will keep an alert eye on the expense account this day, for various little things may happen in the most unexpected way that will make it mount sky high, if care is not used. Tempers are apt to be testy this day. It might be better to agree than to bicker, because a difference of opinion may be the cause of many a quarrel. Married and engaged couples, as well as those who want to get married, may make a big mistake in thrusting upon a companion their views regarding a third person when they know that the companion is opposed to such opinions.

If a woman and March 20 is your birthday, you are probably thoroughly unselfish and generous to a fault. You perhaps have a love for taking risks simply because you are fond of excitement. Be careful this trait does not tempt you to indulge in highly speculative schemes as this might prove costly. You are alert, and ought to know how and when to grasp an opportunity. You are likely to have a great deal of ability in either business or some artistic line of endeavor. As an office manager, tea room hostess, trained nurse, saleslady, writer or actress you may make a good deal more than a mere living. Marriage perhaps has much more to offer you in the way of happiness than has single life.

The child born on March 20 usually by the time it arrives at its majority, embarks on a career that will ultimately win for it an enviable reputation.

If a man and March 20 is your natal day, you must stick to strictly legitimate lines of activity if you expect to make a permanent success. A reputation of reliability may enable you to reach the topmost rung of the ladder. You might succeed best as a lawyer, artist, musician, doctor, engineer, dentist, bank employee, actor or salesman.
